What's Happening Now

WAR IN THE GULF

As a shocked nation looks on (maybe you weren't shocked but I was), Saddam Hussein moves his troops into the peaceful, prosperous, American loving Kuwait. The entire world was taken by surprise as the little country was ransacked, set on fire, and exploited. For months the globe watched idly, accepting insult after insult, as peace offers were put on the table and rudely refused by Saddam "Insane". Until...

Into Kuwait!

INTO KUWAIT

Hi Ho Silver. High, High, High, Ho Silver. The U.S. wasn't going to wait any longer. Led by General Norman Swartzkopf and Colin Powell, the U.S. launched an air attack so successful and so tremendous upon Iraq's capital, Iraq wasn't even able to counter-attack. They were literally "dead in their tracks."

VICTORY!

VICTORY

Although the "war" continued for about a month afterwards, the bombardment of Bagdad, destroyed any hope of victory Hussein and his troops might have had. The brilliant tactics employed by American leaders and carried out by our young men and women proved to be too much for Hussein and his hired assassins. Once again, America used its world power status to enforce justice and take a stand against radical, self-seeking dictators. (Kinda reminds you of a guy named Hitler.) However, no matter how huge a victory, there is always a loss. There are no "free lunches". War, by definition, is a "period of armed conflict." Anytime there are weapons there is death. The ultimate price to pay for victory.

On Your Mark!!

Study is the word that strikes fear into the hearts of most students at PCH. Most students see studying as an unnecessary chore that will make them less popular, and who wants to be known as the class nerd? Besides there are so many more things to do in life like talk on the phone, watch TV, and go to the mall. Who needs to study?! Yeah, right. How many times have you decided to wait until 5 minutes before a major test to study, then have the nerve to argue with the teacher as to why you got such a lousy grade. The truth of the matter is that studying is hard work. Studying also takes time which means you have to take time out of your extra-curricular activities. This may seem like a drag now but when you graduate from college and land that million dollar job, you will have plenty of time to make up for all the time you lost spent studying.

Are you working hard Mike Chapa?

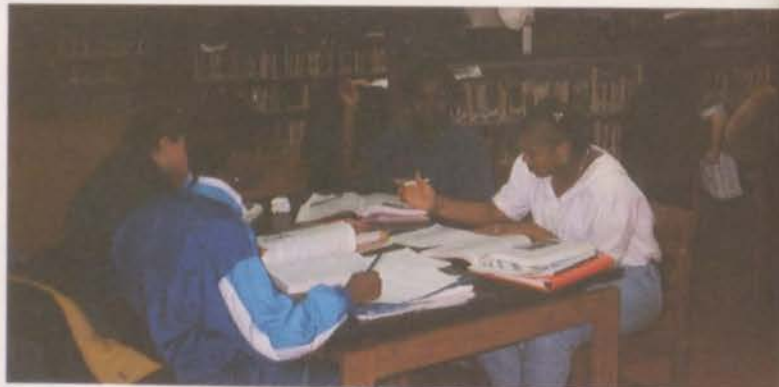

Jason Herr, Thaddeus Smith, Donnel Crosky, and Kevin Bryant are a bunch of chillin' guys.

A hard working substitute. But just how hard do the substitutes work?

Studying hard! Tamika Lance, Fawn Marion, Nikki Anderson, and Soyinka Boykin take advantage of the library.

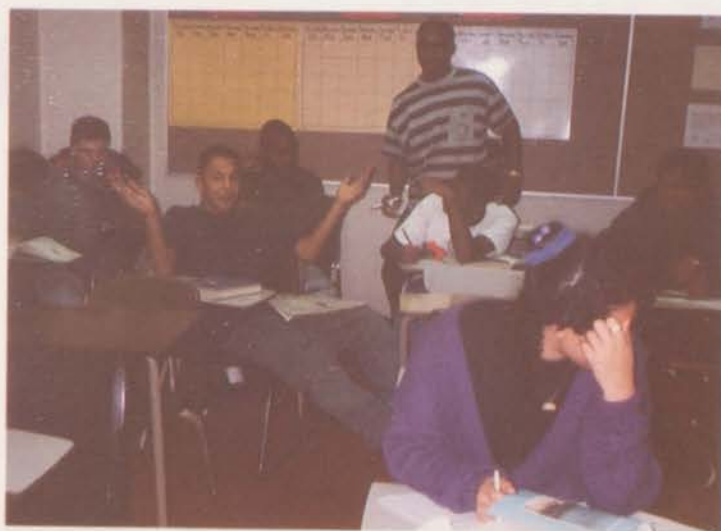

Talia Robinson, Angelina Bell, Kim Tabone, and Terrell Carroll are doing research for Careers.

Here's the Health bunch! Roslyn Taylor, Taykisha Varile, Willow Wagner, Kinte Seay, and Nicicey Smith.

Elizabeth Ortiz, Chester Hall, Brian Lindsay, Deon Ware, Thomas Wayne, and Lawrence Yoder do some studying.

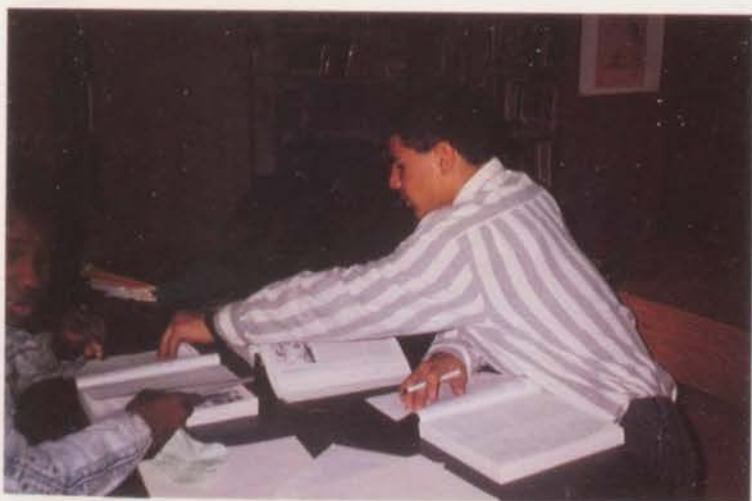

Are you working hard Yurri Gonzales?

Dangale Daniel, speak English please!!

Aaron Caulk and Mr. Strachan. Which is teaching and which is studying?

David Fuentus is always helping someone.

Keyon Harris, are you paying attention?

School?

This is supposed to be school?

Elementary school was cool wasn't it? Math was math not algebra. English was not American Literature. And of course, there was recess. A time to unwind and swing on the swings. Unless it was your turn to get picked on by the bully. Or maybe you were the bully. Anyway, the time came to move on. Junior high was cool too. Algebra was  $2x=8$ , English was prepositions, and gym took the place of recess but the bully was bigger. The next thing you knew, you were roaming the halls of PCH, afraid to ask where you were, for fear of getting directed to a stairwell. Soon you found algebra was  $3x_2(x_2-3x-4)=0$ . Literature was essay provoking. It seemed that teachers spent their time trying to prevent you from having fun. But, later you came to the realization that fun was ... sticking scrawny, lost, insecure freshmen into ... STAIRWELLS!

Giving Curtis Palmer a new hair do is Paula Bell and Shameka Alexander.

Caught in the act! TyWanda Clark is taken by surprise.

What did Kim Weiss, Mike Smith, Jose Molina, and Michelle Curry hear that the class missed out on?

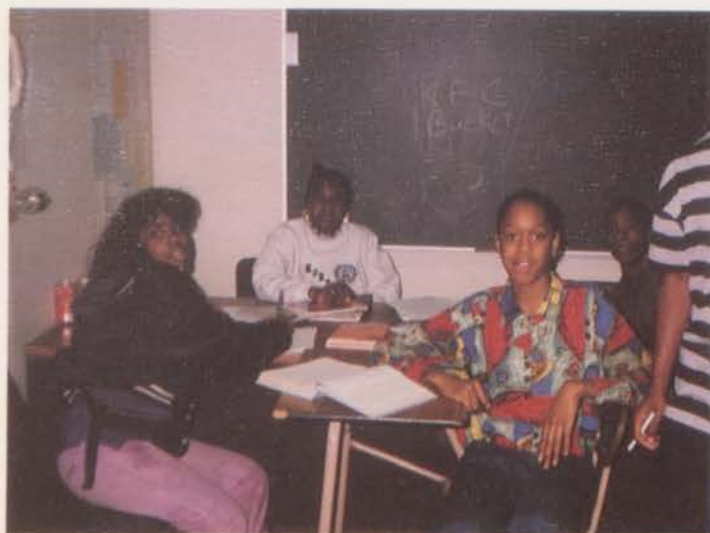

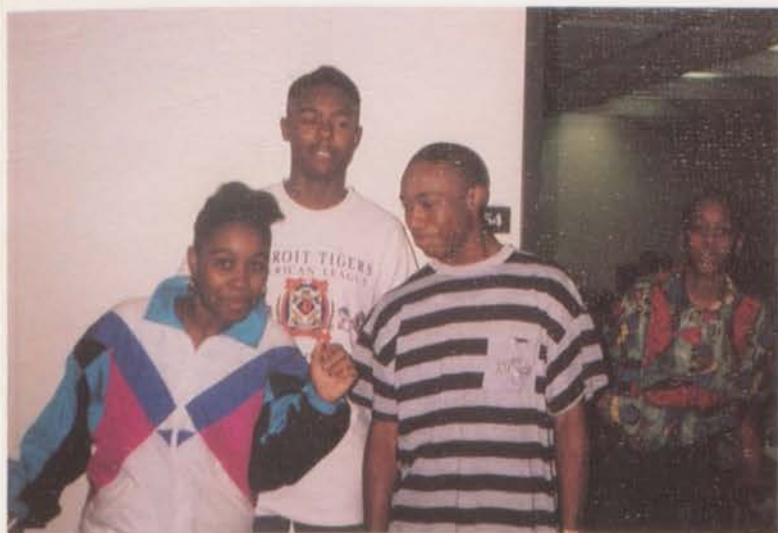

Mr. Kronz and his new woman. Nice outfits.

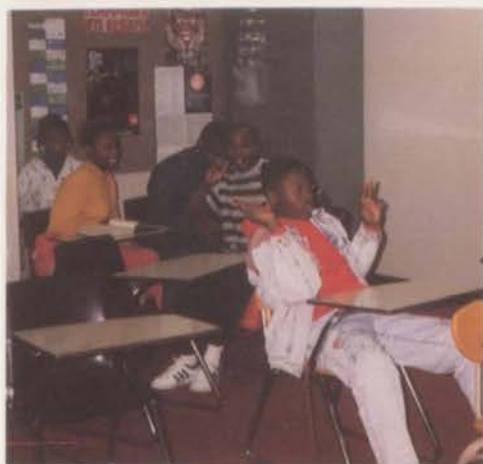

A bunch of delinquents hanging outside of PCH after school let out.

Shalidah Simpson, Harold Greene, Chester Hall, and Latasha Tipton, do you really think you should be playing around?

Okay, who's hair looks like a KFC bucket?

World Peace must be popular, huh, Kamille Anderson?

Monica Henery caught something funny that the rest of the class missed.

Elizabeth Adrian, we sure are happy that you are so happy.

"Thank you for explaining that so clearly for us."

Are you hoping for peace Chester Hall?

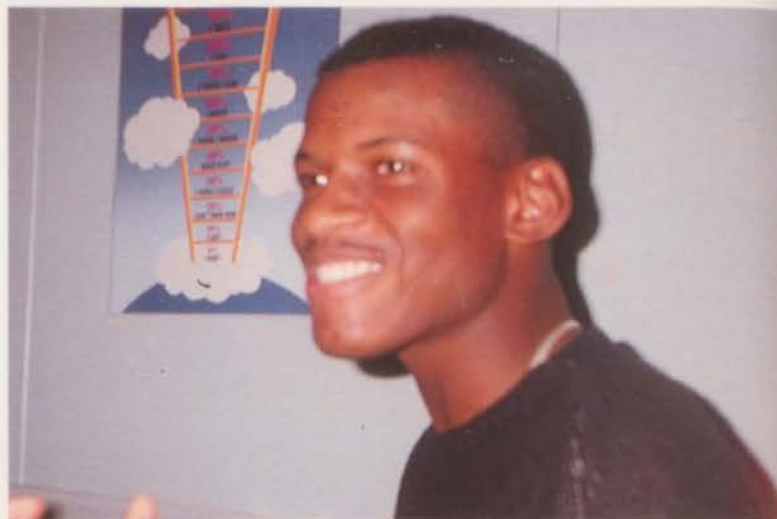

Hi Ho, Hi Ho, it's off to school we go. We learn some junk and then we flunk, Hi Ho, Hi Ho, Hi Ho Hi Ho.

So goes the mind set of us students in tune to the Seven Dwarfs song. Ok, maybe that's just a bit pessimistic but how many of us are too optimistic about school? School just isn't a focal point. All students rally around. No one gets pumped up about 1st hour. Maybe 5th hour but not because its another opportunity to gain invaluable resources of knowledge. But because they get to go home and watch Tiny Toons or the Flintstones. Or if they really hurry they can catch the last few minutes of "Leave It To Beaver." Let's put things into perspective. Without school where would we be? Sleeping or watching Bob Barker. But where would we be 10 years from now? Probably sleeping but without a TV to watch Bob Barker.

No matter how much we dislike school, we couldn't be successful without it. So when you get the chance, make sure you thank your teachers from the bottom of your heart.

Work, Work, Work

Tom McGhee feels great after acing an accounting test.

Mr. Lilley keeps times of his cross-country runners at the Freshman-Sophomore meet at Kimball High.

These students work hard to perfect their archery skills in Mrs. Hopkins 5th hour gym class.

Shameika Nash is practicing hard to make extra points.

"Honest teacher, I didn't do anything!" says Marcus Terry.

Mr. Sloan confers with his secretary in the 10th grade.

Two friends share a laugh while working in library.

Masceal Robinson works to defend her opponent.

Lisa Vega, Shanequa Broome and friend study for an upcoming test.

Chester Hall, Kenya Earl and friends try to pose as hardworking students.

Rise and Shine?

Have you ever had an extremely hard time keeping your eyes open during 1st hour... or 2nd, or 3rd, or 4th, or 5th, or 6th? Do you ever notice how teachers constantly tell you to go to bed earlier and yet give you more homework which keeps you up later?

These students certainly do. I'm sure that they were all up to 1:00 meeting Mrs. Phillips deadline, or studying for Mrs. Grants tests. Maybe they had to watch "Colour Me Bad" on the Arsenio Hall Show. Maybe they liked the music so much that they inspired to listen to "I Adore Mi Amore" 100 times until 3:00 p.m. Or possibly they listened to "Colour Me Bad" while watching Arsenio Hall while doing Mrs. Phillips homework or studying for Mrs. Grants tests.

Whatever the case, we all know the feeling of having lead eye lids. A few more of us know the embarrassment of being chastised by the teacher for nodding off during a lesson. A select few have fallen out of their desk and some have snored.

Teachers just don't realize that if they want students to stay awake, homework will have to be eliminated. In fact, it would be better if we only had school 3 days a week. Why not just drop school altogether. We're smart enough, right?

Unfortunately, I think the answer from the teachers would be a resounding NOT!

While resting after a cross country meet, Leslie Markowitz thinks "Damn those freshmen."

"Can't this algebra stuff wait?" says Shanequa Broome.

Keyon Harris dreams of the late show he watched last night.

Mr. McGhee, did you forget to set your alarm clock?

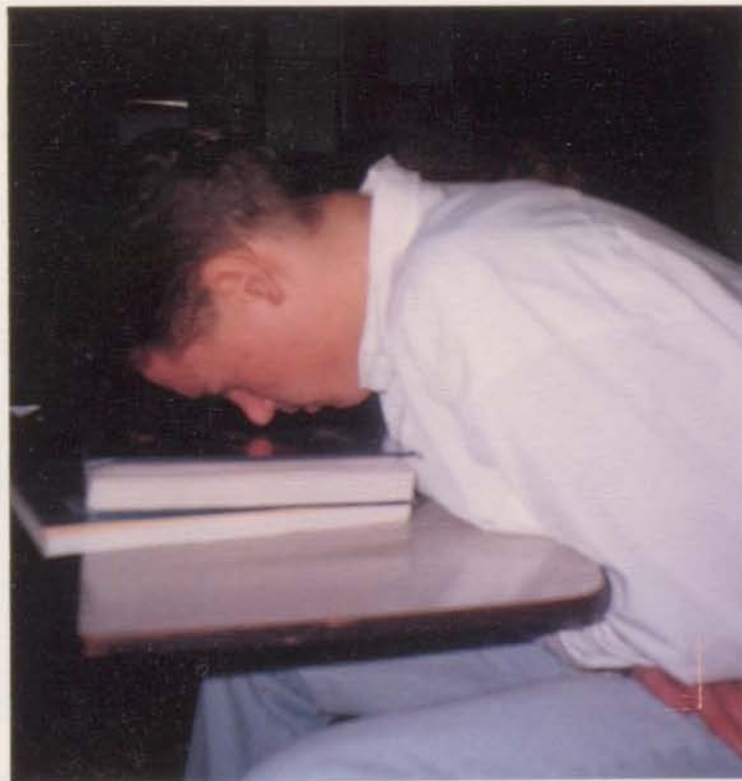

Tion Marshall, didn't you eat your Wheaties this morning?

Jamie Hack seems to think she can learn Algebra through osmosis.

"I just can't take it anymore!" said Mark Kirkland before he fell asleep.

How Tacky R We?

September 30 was a day that the students had the opportunity to dress like their parents - tacky. Some PCHS students dressed in anything from mismatched clothes and uncombed hair to clog shoes with James Brown hookups. Some even went as far as wearing their underclothes on the outside. The teachers were even able to participate without changing their usual attire. Overall, it was a fun filled day for everything in the PCHS family.

Marcello Reyes, Lori Kolc, and Christy Holland are showing off their true character.

Look out! A nerd herd!

You went outside looking like that Patty Krencewicz?

Who are these muchachas? They're Crystal Howard and Netra.

Elliot Pugh, Jennifer Latham, Estvan Istias, Chris Caulk, & Miranda Pardinton are all tacky cross country runners.

Hey honey, I'm Dovay Compton and I'm Ahmad Rogers, what's your name?

VICE VERSA

Tuesday, October 1 was a day full of surprises. It may have seemed normal in the beginning. Girls walking around in short, tight minis and guys walking around in their suits and ties. But wait! That girl has a mustache... in fact, she's not even a girl. And that guy walks kind of feminine, maybe its because he's not a guy. Is this the Twilight Zone? No, its Exchange Day at Pontiac Central High. Students were involved in Spirit Week all week, including Exchange Day. Everyone had fun, but let's not make this switch an everyday thing.

Any new styles Zack McCall?

Met any cute girls Eugenia Wigington?

Shandra Brown, and Patrina Hayes are looking for a good time!!!

Arteway Pete and Earl Thornton are a couple of lovely ladies.

Twins for A Day

On Wednesday, October 2, any visitor would have walked into Pontiac Central thinking they are seeing double. The reason for this was that Wednesday was Twins Day. Everyone with spirit, along with their best friends, participated. In some cases there were triplets. Students enjoyed seeing themselves and others looking alike. To tell you the truth, I personally spent the day doing doubletakes, but of course, that's what Twins Day is all about.

Jermaine Hannah and Willie Ringstaff are the two best twins that I've seen lately.

Karloa Daniels, Angela Milton, Shellina Ellis, and Nikki Watkins - Friends Forever.

Now we know what Mr. Krontz other half looks like.

Sameka Hudson, Kishawn Bumps, and Kisha Black look related.

Elizabeth Adian and Andrea Bauer show big smiles for the camera.

Who's that lady in red? It's Gena Grandberry!

Dress-Up Day

On Dress-Up Day, students came dressed to impress. Seems as if the spirit filled the hearts of each and every student. The guys all dressed in suit and tie and looked fit for the cover of G.Q. magazine. The girls were all dressed in their Sunday best and could pose for the cover of Vogue. Each student showed that they had lots of class and fashion on Dress-Up Day.

Timothy Parker knows he's looking sexy in his tie.

Does it matter if it's black or white? Just ask Stacey Wright.

Vince Prano and Shaunda Eggleston dressed to impress.

...And We All Have Spirit!!!

School spirit at Pontiac Central has been making a steady comeback over the past few years. This year of Spirit Day 1991, Pontiac Central was at an all time high. Everyone was wearing orange and black, some even painted their faces in the school colors. As the football team entered the field house, the sound was deafening. The fight song was played over and over as the student body sang along. It was obvious that school spirit was back at Pontiac Central and was here to stay.

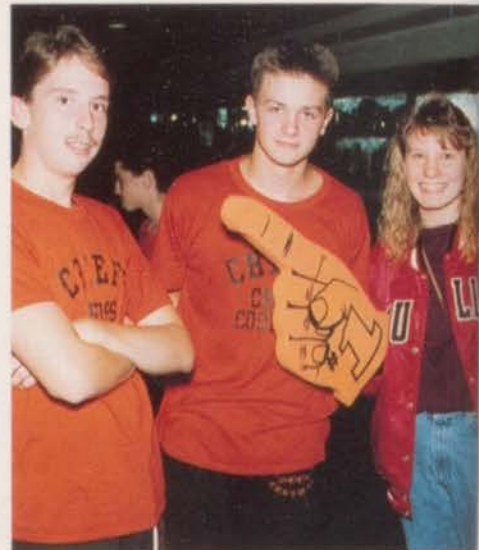

From left to right: Mr. Radford, Mr. Cotter, Mr. Smith and Mr. Terry each setting an example of school spirit.

Eva Stokes and Tamika Carthane are showing off their pride in PCH.

The Chiefs Are in the House

Pep Rally's are what make school fun, besides the tact that you get to miss class, you are allowed to scream your head off!! Even though the freshman won the Spirit Jug, there were also 200 more people in their class than any other class.

The Marching Band did a great job playing the fight song and then proceeded to put on an awesome dance performance. The fall sports teams were introduced to the roar of the cheering crowds. Everyone was hoarse when they left with a smile on their face.

The J.V. Football Team showed their enthusiasm while in "breakdown" position.

The excited Sophomores show their spirit while yelling class chants.

The Freshmen and Mr. Terry rejoice after winning the Spirit Jug.

Student P.A. announcers Jessica McCall and Tamika Carthane gets the crowd involved in the rally.

Homecoming Parade

On October 5, 1991, the spirited Pontiac Central student body experienced a joyout event. Besides the fact that it was extremely windy, a fun time was had by all. The parade kicked off in Centrals parking lot, rumbled through downtown Pontiac and came to a halt at Wisner Stadium. Along the way, spectators cheered, the band played, cheerleaders danced, the senior float collapsed? That's right folks, the wind was so gusty that the glorious senior display was ripped apart. Despite this minor setback it still managed to capture 1st place - implying that either the float was extremely good or the others ... well we won't talk about that.

Sophomore Ray Stevenson rides on the Youth Alive float, displaying his PCH spirit.

The Pontiac Central cheerleaders stepped to the rhythm of the band and led the crowd to pride in their school.

Mrs. Hopkins, David Wilson, and Miss Simpson show off the product of their work on the class of 1994 float.

PROUD CHIEFS

Class of 1992's Court: Angela Milton, Jessica McCall, Nikki Watkins, Tiroca Battle, Joey Graves, Bill Gallardo, Tamika Carthane, and Jay Hannah.

The 1991-92 court was made up of 8 chieftans. Jay Hannah, Tiroca Battle, Joey Graves, Bill Gallardo, Tamika Carthane, Jessica McCall, Angela Milton and Nikki Watkins all made the cut. Every year a new group of school leaders is chosen to be part of a once in a lifetime experience. Each group is unique and individual, making their own mark on Pontiac Central. Jay Hannah will introduce an entirely different outlook on clothes fashions for chiefs. Jessica McCall, who was voted most unique in the mock elections, will no doubt add some spice to soup of tradition. Tamika Carthane will go down as the sweetest sweetheart to make court. Bill Callardo, well he's different. Tiroca Battle is destined to become the next Jesse Jackson. Nikki Watkins probably hasn't worn the same outfit twice in her high school career, and Joey Graves and Angela Milton are just plain cool.

After the class of '92 graduates this court will disassemble and another will move in. However, there will never be a court quite like this court.

The court, along with a few extras, make the traditional trek down Oakland Ave.

Nikki Watkins & Tamika Carthane

The court along with last years courtie Leotis Chapman at the pep rally. The excitement inspired chiefs to a 13 to 7 win over Flint Northwestern.

Chief Jay Hannah jumps for joy during his victory dance which was hampered by a knee injury.

Chief Jay and Princess Tamika. Both are adorned with flowers, war dresses, and glasses. The glasses will give them better vision for the future.

BIG SMILES

If someone had asked Jay Hannah and Tamika Carthane if they knew they'd be crowned chief and princess of mighty PCH 4 years ago you would have probably received an answer similar to, "Huh... What Cool Dude!"

During half-time of the homecoming game, both were coronated as the 1992 chief and princess. Having survived steep competition, they emerged victoriously with big smiles. Both have shown good leadership qualities during their career - Jay having served 2 terms as president of the class of '92 and Tamika capturing the Secretarial position of the student government and PA announcements. We are sure that these two will be remembered favorably by all and by history.

The headress of fire is passed on to Chief Jay. A happy court rides in anticipation of the decision.

Chief Jay anticipates his first turn to show his stuff as he dances into the hearts of the crowd.

Louis Adams breaking tackles for Pontiac Central touchdown.

Fruquwa Miller hands off to Louis Adams as he penetrates toward the hole.

Friday the 13th's Jason couldn't make it to the game so he send his lynchmen John Robertson and Eddie Perrymen.

And at the Half!

When I think of half-time, the only thing that comes to my mind is the trip to the crowded restrooms. However, these pictures prove that there is more than that. There are actually other activities that go on besides the flushing of a toilet. Marching bands march, cheerleaders cheer, and fans are fanatical. Of course, many people use the break to fill their lap with goodies. Pretzels, pop, nachos, candy, and pizza are usually readily available. In conclusion these pictures and other eye-witness accounts prove that there is more to half-time than the sounds and smells of the interior of a john.

Mighty marching chiefs lay down and boogie.

The band stands at attention in honor of the new chief and princess.

Where we've been and what we've been through

In my four years at Pontiac Central the thing that sticks out in my mind is the changes I've seen in myself. As a freshman entering Central I was very shy, keeping to myself most of the time. Now, as a senior, I find myself a lot more outgoing, more involved in school activities, and I have made great strides in overcoming my shyness. I attribute this metamorphosis to the teachers and administrators who, with gentle coaxing, helped me to "shed my old skin." In the future, I plan to attend the University of Michigan, to pursue my interest in accounting. In ten years I see myself working on Wall Street, with a promising life ahead of me.

The good times that made us laugh!

In the four years of my education at Pontiac Central there were a few things that I liked at P.C.H.S. One of the main things I liked was the chance of receiving a better education than most schools because of the quality of teachers I was taught by. But the think I like is I'm graduating from high school. After high school I will go to college to pursue a career in Business Administration. In ten years I hope to be working for a business firm making a good sum of money. Will I be married? You'll find out in 10 years.

Surprize Students!

Expressions!

School pride is something that Pontiac Central students are full of. Each day freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors come up with unique ways to express themselves. Pontiac Central faculty is also responsible for some of the more memorable expressions. Happy, Glad, Sad, Mad, Angry, Disappointed and of course Spirit. These are some of the most memorable faces that we caught on camera. These expressions are for you to share and to laugh because Central students are definitely 2 Legit to Quit.

Zachary McCall clowns around or is this his Elvis expression?

Hey! Barbarie Williams! What?

Nafatari Sharpton shows her Chieftan pride.

Senior Tammy Steverson is proud to meet your acquaintance. You can never catch her without a smile.

Carlton Elam is a sight for sore eyes.

Aminifu Munson looks confused.

Lavorice Lewis is in a daze.

Kaye Burrill keeps it at arms length.

Mr. Krontz anxiously awaits the New Year.

Mrs. Sonora closes the door on another day.

The American Dream

The lead of Guess Who's Clever sings to Pontiac Central High School.

Guess Who's Clever singing "It's So Hard to Say Goodbye to Yesterday."

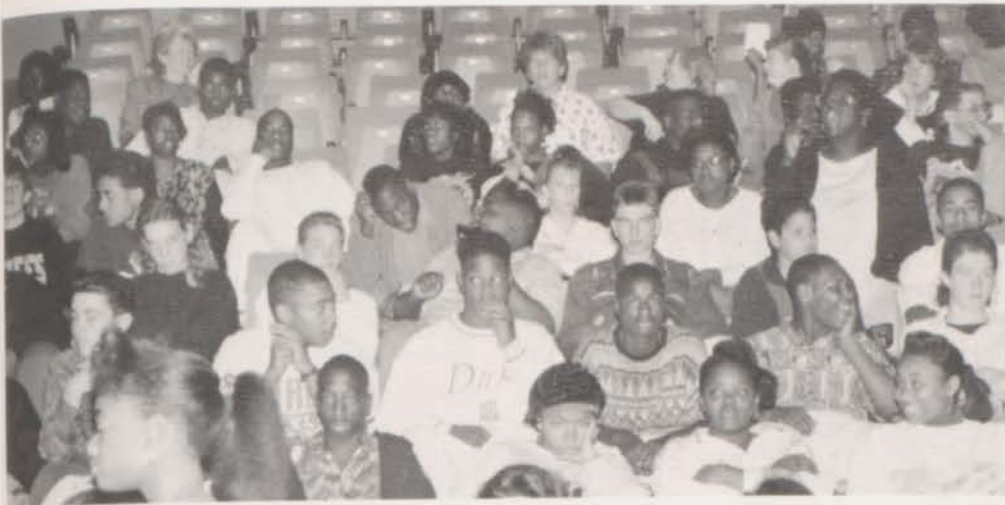

QTMC - Steve Coleman, Michael Methis, Jorge Payne, and John Foster.

Students at PCH enjoyed the singing and the speaking of Mr. Brown.

Students filled the auditorium as they listened to the inspiration of Drew Brown.

"Why do you think they call it dope - DOPE." These are the wise words of Drew Brown, who visited Pontiac Central in the fall of 91. Captain Brown, an Air Force pilot, took an afternoon off to encourage students to be all that they can be. Sorry, that's the army. Anyway his message was loud and clear. Several times during the assembly he yelled right into the microphone to get his point across. What was his point? The usual, in school, off drugs, and set high goals. It wasn't so much what he said but how he said it. His nonchalant, matter-of-fact style of speaking no doubtedly reached a great number of students including this one.

"It was very uplifting."

-Detra Sortin

"I liked the way he stated his facts and backed them up." -Enrique Flores

Drew Brown imitates teenagers today trying to act BAD.

Wise words from TOP Gun Pilot Drew Brown.

Drew Brown helps turn confused, troubled kids to wisdom?

Faculty / Staff

Are you having a good day Ms. Coffee?

Mr. Gerard relaxing after a hard day's work.

Ms. Denio shying away from the camera while talking to a student.

Ms. Kennebrew grimacing for a picture.

Administrators & Secretaries

Mr. Cotter looks on at students passing in the hallway.

A. Terry (9th), F. Smith (12th), E. Sloan (10th), and R. Cotter (Principal)

G. Laster, V. Coffey, W. Bell, D. Simms, L. Lyons, K. Hopp and M. Williams

Eileen McFadzean greets the students as they enter the counseling area.

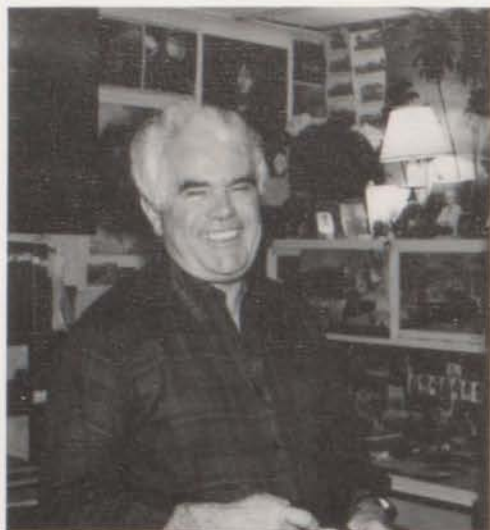

Think about it - Who was the first person you saw when you stepped inside Pontiac Central for the first time? It probably wasn't like a sitcom where the star bumps into a cute blonde on registration day. In reality, you probably met one of Central's many fine principals or secretaries. It's their job to make sure that you're focused, on time, well prepared and well behaved every day.

To some this means that principals and secretaries are authoritative, disciplinary totalitarians. In case you're wondering what that means, it is that they kick people out of school and hand out detentions & referrals. But to others this means that the same mean old fogies are always instructive, supporting and encouraging.

So while you might rather have bumped into a beautiful brunette, our principals are perhaps the second best thing. (Besides a blonde, a red head, etc...)

Media Center & Counselors

Mr. Graham shows his pearly whites when greeting his next student.

G. Diponio, R. Radford, H. Evans, B. Graham, and C. LaFontaine. Not shown W. Houff.

B. Laing, S. Squires, C. Fournier, and D. Thorton

Sue Squires and Connie Fournier are happy to greet you as you enter the Media Center.

One of the most frequent visited places in all of P.C.H.S. in the Counseling Department. The beginning and the end of each semester is the busiest with schedule changes. Throughout the rest of the semester counselors help students with college applications, achievement tests and possible career choices.

The second most visited place is the media center. Many students when they first come to this school think that there are only books there, but they are wrong. The media center contains records, tapes, slides, portraits, magazines, and an information file. New to the media center is the Apple computer received through receipt collection from different grocery stores.

From the past to the future

One of the new teachers to the building, Mr. Toth keeps his student's attention.

His favorite piece of equipment is the telephone, just ask Mr. Richardson.

Social Studies - Hunt, Roller, Kissling, Carrlsson, Neumann, Grant, and Lingl

English Department - Phillips, Williams, Roller, Brown, Kieninger, Jefferies, Hunt, Kennebrew, Krantz, and Orfale.

American Government, U.S. History, Black History, Consumer Economics and Psychology are just a few courses offered in our Social Studies Department at Pontiac Central High School. All of these classes are based on man's potential and his development in culture, politics and individuality. The social studies, whether they are historical, psychological or socio-economical, they are all necessary for a person to understand for themselves and the world that they live in.

From 9th to 12th grade English, the English curriculum has offered a wide range of intriguing and interesting courses. Drama captured the minds of budding actors and actresses; Creative Writing inspired future novelists and poets. By offering a wider range of subjects, the required course of one English class per semester, did not seem as demanding. Following the basic theme of this year's classes administration, the classes were centered more towards individuality for all students, making this year an enriching learning experience.

Science & Mathematics?

Who is that taking up space? Mr. Sommers.

Mr. Hulett is checking those papers and checking them twice.

Ron Smith, Dave Strachan, Eddie Porter, Jan Hulett, Shirley Olin, Robert Kent, Julie Simpson, John Hejhal.

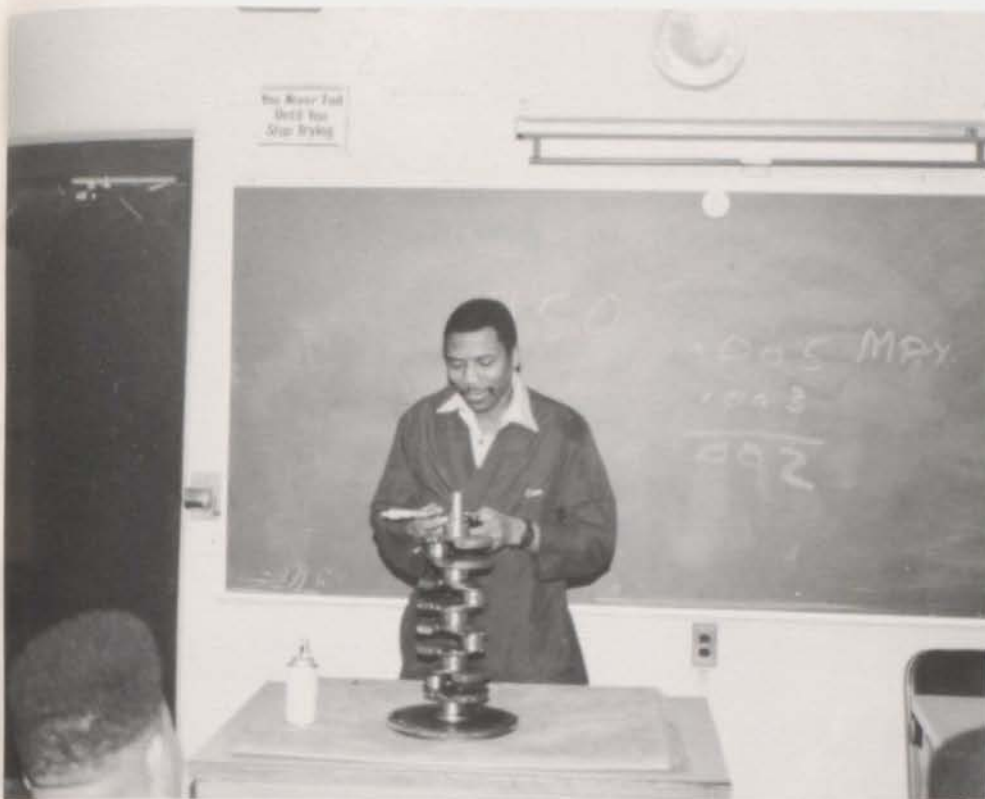

Front - Doug Zielman, Carol Jones. Back - Denise Akom, Chip Sommers, Cynthia Haley, Carolyn Delia, Liliana Sorg, Mike McIntyre, Rob Robb.

In our Mathematics department we have various types of material from Pre-Calculus. There is a wide range of courses that are recommended to learn. You must have at least two years of mathematics in order to graduate. You may take more than two years if you are going to college, especially if you are going into something that involves using numbers and calculations. We would also like to say to all the teachers who teach and make math fun, Thanks!

Science, "How did the world begin again? I forgot!" From how the world began, to what it is made from, for how we started to how we look inside and out. We learn about everything around us and about us. Sometimes boring, sometimes the most interesting thing we learn. It is all about the teachers who teach us and make us learn, Thanks!

Business and Vocational Education

Mrs. Macy busy at work on her co-op applications.

Mr. Crenshaw busy measuring a crankshaft in his automotive class.

Business Administrators - Jackson, Gerard, Hoffman, Denio.

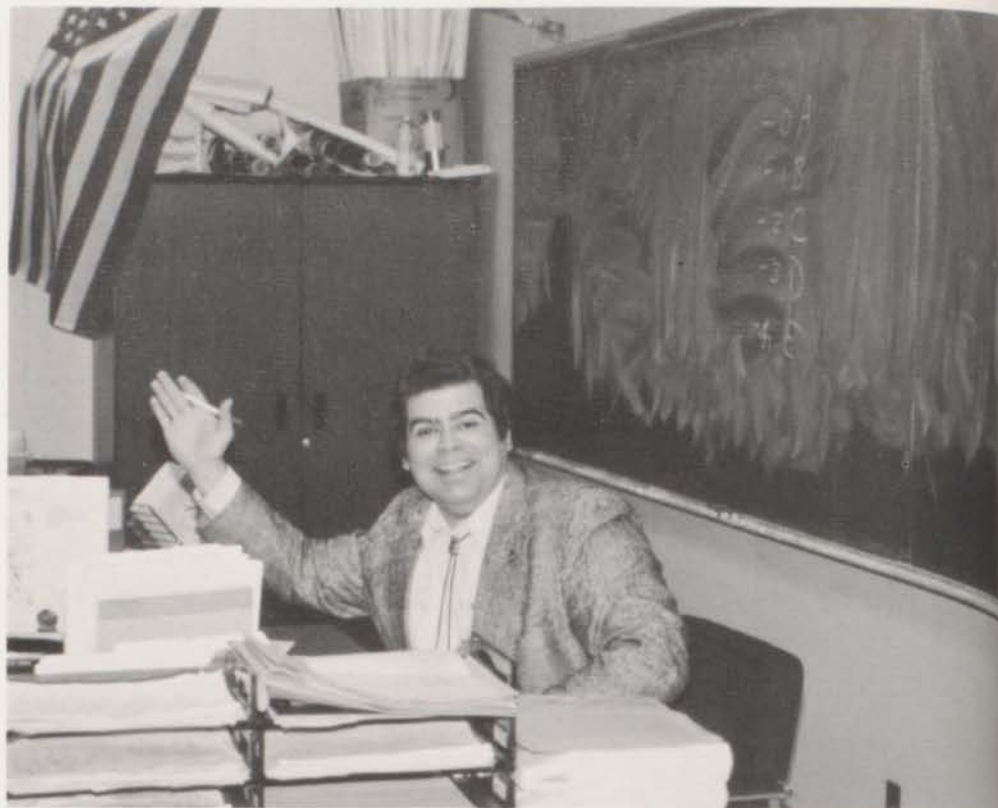

Vocational administrators - Crenshaw, Macy, Martus.

Some of the students who work hard and plan to graduate from PCHS go directly into the work force. There are two departments within this school which train students for the working world. They are the Business and Vocational Education Departments. The classes that are taught range from typing and computers to small engines and drafting. Besides those students who enter the work force, college bound students should also take these classes. Many times college students need skills to work part-time while in school. So if you are interested check these departments out!

Foreign Languages/Physical Education

A very surprised Mrs. Hopkins.

A super extra happy Mr. Coba!

Mr. William Hoffman, Mr. Coba, and Mr. Paquette.

Mr. Lilley, Mrs. Hopkins, Mr. Tipton, B.C. Cotter, and Mr. Sinclair.

In physical education, physical fitness and good sportsmanship is stressed day after day in gym class. Pontiac has some of the best teachers for gym. Mr. Tipton, Mr. Lilley, and Mrs. Hopkins. We also have good equipment like a weight room and an olympic size pool. The gyms are very spacious. There is room for volleyball, basketball, archery and softball just to name a few. During the students physical education class they have six weeks of swimming. Most of the students look upon gym as a time of rest from their more important classes.

This year, the Foreign language classrooms were always busy and active. The French and Japanese students use the skills they learn by conducting telephone conversations. The French students practice their French with Northern by satellite. The second year Spanish students planned a trip to one of the Spanish style cooking restaurants like Tenuta's. In the French classes each week the students do dialogues which are like short skits written and presented to the class.

On the ROAD and in the STUDIO

Each day the Choir students are greeted with Mr. Cordell's winning smile.

Mr. Blazis-Voight smiles as he warms up to play his favorite instrument.

Drivers Education - Mr. Zapalski, Ms. Snover, and Mr. Hill.

Music & Art - Mr. Pescor, Ms. Botsas, and Mr. Blazis-Voight.

Lots of students race toward the counseling office when time comes to sign up for classes either fall or spring semester for Drivers Education. There are only three teachers, so all the people that race toward the office are not always happy. Have you even tried to think of what goes on in the mind of the teacher when that first day on the road arrives? Just think about it!!

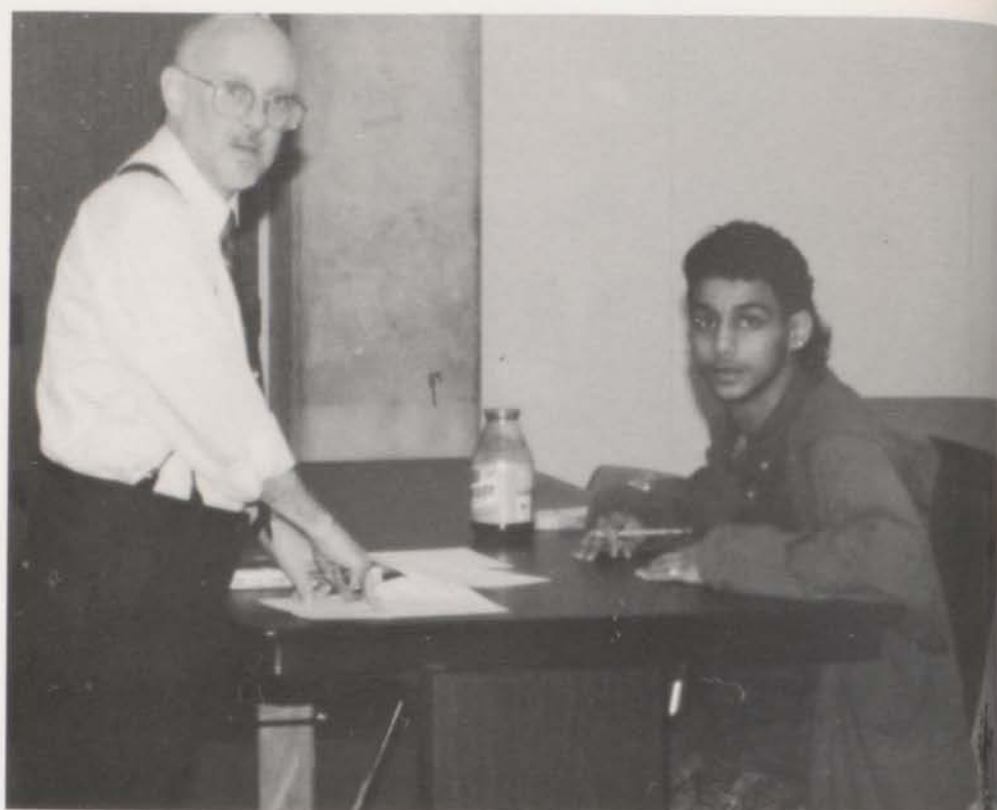

Many musically inclined high school students fulfill their goals by participating in one of the instrumental or vocal groups at P.C.H.S. These groups include Marching Band, Symphonic, Varsity Pep, and Concert Bands. There are also Concert, Mixed and A Capella Choirs.

For those students who are more inclined towards creativity, there are Art classes that can be taken. They are Art 32, Advanced Art Design, Ceramics and Studio Art.

Consultant - Learning Center Teachers

Ms. Delehanty shares some wise words with one of her guest's for lunch.

Mr. Saunby helps one of his students with their individual needs.

D. Price, B. Thompson, J. Miller, N. Knutson, S. Engel, D. Price, and D. Delehanty.

J. Schutt, D. Edwards, T. Saunby, J. Sales, T. Layton, D. Layman, and B. White.

All of our Consultants and Learning Center teachers are consultants to the entire staff here at P.C.H.S. by giving supportive services, supplemental classroom materials etc. The consultants attended to individual student needs, parent contacts, assessments that all help in the continuity and consistency in programming for the student. In their capacity, much counseling is done about attitudes, behaviors, attendance problems and parent involvement. Consultants assist the counselor in scheduling students in appropriate classes to meet student needs and graduation requirements.

Don't forget those who help ALL!

Ms. LaFountain cleans up after the students leave their cherished school!

Many times you are helped by these women and forget to say thank you, they don't always have to greet you with a smile.

S. Ladd, M. Slavinski, M. Coleman, G. Adler, M. Carr, R. Jories, S. Hole, L. Wilkinson, A. Carlis, R. James, D. Milton, E. Nicholson, N. DeLongchamp.

Front - V. Payne, L. Bradley, M. Beach, E. McMahon. Back - K. LaFountain, L. Joyner, C. Keyes, J. Manns, E. Garcia.

Preparing lunches, cleaning the floor, and picking up after lazy students, are some of the jobs the custodians and food service "ladies" are responsible for. Even "men" have these responsible jobs. These ladies and men have the duty of clean-up at P.C.H.S. and do a well done job. Even though PCH is large, they seem to always be there when an accident is bound to happen. And even the kids who are "young and restless" always seem to be happy after the lunch period. So here's to the many times these people do their jobs without any well deserved thank-you's. So as students within this school, we wish to extend a well deserved THANK YOU.

DEPARTMENTS THAT HELP

Mr. McGhee - our vocational coordinator busy at work in the gym.

Kim Pino, secretary, busy in the Job Placement Center.

Rolanda Williams, Vocational Learning Center Aid, being caught off guard with one of the yearbook's photographers.

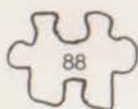

Job Placement Center - Christine Verheye, Kimberly Pino, Sally Leroux, Kim Reimer, Steve Watkins and Susan Miller.

When a student is in need of a job they can go to the Job Placement Center because it provides meaningful employment opportunities for eligible high school students. They offer several programs such as STEP, Step school year support, summer youth employment and training, work experience and try-out employment. Job Placement also provides assistance in employability skills, they include: resume writing, filling out job applications and interviewing techniques.

We are here to serve that special population (vocational education students). Our new age of information and technology demands a more highly educated population and work force. We encourage you to use this center to understand the technical complexities and obtain that competitive edge in the career market.

The Vocational Learning Center is a hands-on instructional program which includes higher-level thinking processes. Using such skills and test devices gives you the upper hand. The curriculum is flexible and responsive to the wide variety of young people we serve.

Those who got involved

Fond Memories and Experiences

Ingrid Liimatta involved in another activity here at P.C.H.S.

Adria Tippins in one of the many activities she's involved with.

Michael Chapa looking for ideas to use in the yearbook.

There are Keys to many things: to hearts, to success and even to life, but only one Key to Room 359. This Key opens the door to fun, friends and the Pontiac Community. I chose to open this door when I joined the Key Club near the end of my freshmen year. Little did I know the fun I would have. Not only did I meet a bunch of fun people (yes, Mr. Roller included), but whether we were singing Christmas songs with impaired children at the Washington Irving Center or "attempting" to paint the walls of our own PCH bathrooms, I actually felt as if I was helping my community and in my own way making a difference.

Ingrid Liimatta

First of all, I must thank a good friend of mine for picking and prodding me to join the B.D.C. If not for her, I doubt I would have joined. Thanks, Genia.

Being a member is a responsibility to meetings, following through on commitments that you've signed up for, etc. It's not only an organization that's a means for getting students involved in school, but a way for us to remember and treasure the past. The accomplishments that blacks, as well as whites, achieved to better our society should be cherished. By joining this activity, I believe that I can contribute to society and follow the steps of post Civil War heroes.

Adria Tippins

My mother and grade school principal have just recently told me that they were afraid that I would become a total bookworm in HS. However, upon entering HS I was eager to join Organizations and meet new people. I started slowly by joining the swim team and later the Key Club. Later I joined Cross Country and many others. Looking back, organizations in HS helped me make friends, mature and develop friendship skills. My fondest memories will always be of my experiences outside the classroom.

Michael Chapa

Futuristic Learning For The Future-SERC

Those dreams of learning by television are here now within the very walls of PCH. This program is called SERC (Satellite Enteractive Research Consortium). In other words, Japanese and Russian classes are beamed into the school via satellite. The classes offered at PCH are Japanese I and II and Russian I. Three days a week students are taught their particular language by a television teacher. The remaining two days are spent speaking their language with a teacher over a phone line. Besides the language instruction the classes also teach about the culture associated with the language the students are learning. Advisor Mr. Richardson says that these classes are special because not even all the "rich" schools have this program. More importantly these classes are accelerated to a college level therefore giving them advanced placement class status. Most of all SERC allows students to study languages out of the traditional French and Spanish.

Don't go to sleep Kong Lee, class hasn't started!

Gabe Santi struggles to answer questions on a Russian quiz.

Amy Gardner and Elizabeth Adrian ponder a tough question on a Japanese II test.

Andrew Jiminez and Angela Bridges study Japanese I for their upcoming telephone session.

TAG

TAG stands for Talented and Gifted. In 9th grade teachers are asked to select students who excel in academics, leadership and citizenship. Being selected to be a member of the TAG program is a special honor. Throughout the school year advisor Mr. Richardson takes TAG students to various educational activities. In the past, students have seen several theatre productions at the Wharton Center at MSU, which tie into literature read in the classroom. The TAG program provides cultural enrichment to the standard classroom instruction making it important to the entire school.

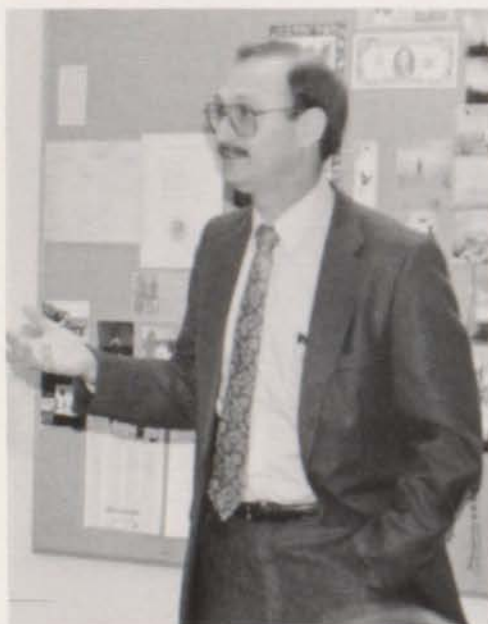

TAG members. Some members are absent due to the fact that they couldn't wake up in time for the meeting. But that's okay, there'll be others.

Ingrid Liimatta takes time out to get a bite to eat.

Mr. Richardson enjoys a moment to relax.

Guest speaker Dr. Ron Tracey, Chairperson of the Economics Department at Oakland University came to give TAG information on business.

Nicole Harris, Tandem Marshall, Sophany Yao, and Frank Guevara listen to the speaker. Are Tandem and Nicole reading or did they fall asleep?

Front - C. Geter, H. Estes, A. West, J. Smelling. Back - Mr. Pescor, B. Mathis, D. Turner.

Strung Out Over Orchestra

Question: What group at Pontiac Central High School consists of 5 very talented young people who play violins, and one who plays the bass? Give up? It's the PCH Orchestra led by Mr. Pescor. These students spend hours improving their musical abilities. When the time is right, they present concerts, such as the Christmas concert that they performed with the PCH choir. If you ever get the chance, why don't you attend their next concert. I'm sure you'll enjoy it.

Just a few of PCH's "cream of the crop."

C. Geter, J. Smelling, A. West, and D. Turner are practicing very hard.

Connie Geter, Julie Smelling, Angela West, and Damon Turner know that "practice makes perfect."

If only we could hear the sweet melody Heather Estes is playing.

Resurgence of band program

The beginning of 1991-1992 school year marked a resurgence in the bands at P.C.H.S. In all approximately 100 students participated in 5 different bands, under the direction of Mr. Blazis-Voight. This high number of participants, compared to previous years, combined to give P.C.H.S. a better band. A significant factor in the bands resurgence has been the influx of students from the Jr. Highs where the students have been playing since the 6th grade. Some people may think that the band practices long hours just to play at pep rallies and football games. Contrary to popular beliefs the band performs in a winter and spring concert as well. This doesn't even begin to include all competitions, festivals and community events that the band performs at throughout the year. Clearly the bands at P.C.H.S. are on the rise and once they put all the pieces together, there's no limit to what they can accomplish.

Mr. Blazis-Voight's Marching Chiefs show off their new dance steps.

The Acapella Choir, Mixed Choir, Central Singers and the All Male Choir perform at numerous events that included other schools and for community groups. At the competition they all received high honors and held up well to the pressure.

The choir hopes to perform in the summer of 1992 at the Olympics by invitation.

Stage Players

- Escape Reality and School

Top: Michael Chapa, Mark Krantz, Mark Kirkland. Middle: Steve Cunningham, Andrew Bauer. Bottom: Natalie Scribner.

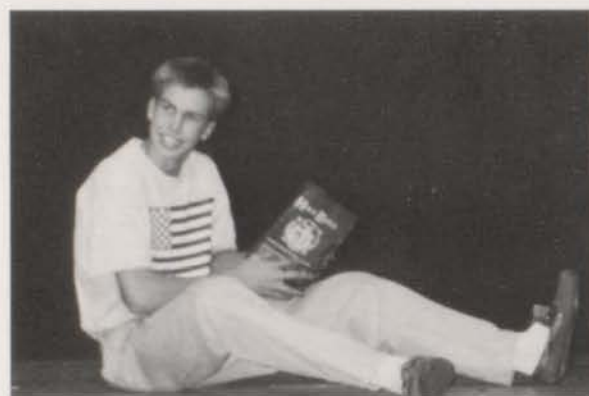

Contrary to popular belief the "Stage Players" is not a group of people who play on stage.

While the organization certainly puts on its share of theatrical performances, members of the club do a great deal more. For example, Mr. Krantz (the "adult" in charge), along with the president Amy Gardner, vice president Andrea Bauer, and secretary Natalie Scribner, have coordinated a trip to Toronto in the spring. Besides enjoying the city, the "players" will attend professional performances of "Phantom of the Opera" and "Les Miserables."

Of course, Stage Players isn't all fun and games. This fall they put on 4 skits, and will be working on "The Sound of Music" this spring.

In addition to plays and trips, the club "provides students with an opportunity to be someone else for a few hours and escape reality", says Mr. Krantz - and occasionally school.

Axel Liimatta attempts to "become at one" with his role and the floor.

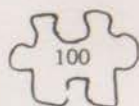

The mean, old, grumpy Mr. Krantz - chastising someones performance no doubt.

Ingrid Liimatta (right) watches the situation closely as Steve (left) plays with the gun. (Axel's out of it.)

Black Drama Club

A group directed by Ms. Lorene Phillips each year puts on a production to celebrate Martin Luther King's Jr. birthday. In the month of February, Black History Month, the group puts on a major production to acknowledge this special time. In the past productions have touched on the subjects facing teenagers today. As well as doing a bit more lighthearted subject like the Whiz. Members show their ethnic heritage with pride and display it on the stage. Their presentations are informative and well worth the wait.

Tracey Bowens is obviously optimistic about the club.

Detra Sartin, the busy body - I mean the very hard worker.

Speed fingers, "Tim Parker," makes his won contribution to the Black Drama Club.

It's either tacky day, dress rehearsal or Literika Pringle is just a very unique individual.

Fall Production

The Mouse Trap, Grease, Egad What a Cad, Charlie ... Wait a minute! Egad, What a Cad? That's right, the Pontiac Central Stage Players added this play and three others to its already impressive list of productions.

In answer to the question, Egad What a Cad is your everyday, creepy villain vs. honorable hero, sage. It doesn't make much sense but provides a lot of laughs.

"Breaking Up is Hard to Do" portrays the relationships in three scenes. The first is the stormy marriage between two senior citizens. The second, an off and on, Beverly Hills 90210'ish dating relationship between two people. Lastly, a hilarious teenage love affair in which the male is more in love with himself than his girlfriend.

The third play, is a sincerely realistic but contrastly humorous representation of racial hatred in America. "No Snakes in This Green" begins in the garden of Eden with the creation of man and woman. The only difficulty - Adam is white, and Eve was black.

"Cinderella Syndrome" the last play looks at Cinderella's woes from an entirely different perspective. Cinderella was just a party pooper. This year's production was a great success and we would like to congratulate the Stage Players.

"You dirty rat!" - Steve Cunningham, Ingrid Liimatta and Andrea Bauer discover Bertram Oleander's mischievous motives.

"You see, he is black!" Emmatine Waljroe played a brilliant Eve.

Andrew Jiminez practices being an old man for his part.

"It's a picture of you ... and your mother." Axel Liimatta and Natalie Scribner get emotional as Bob and Doris.

"Augustine Greystone ... is dead!" call it a 6th sense but I suspect the dark figure in the far left is the one to blame.

"You always have to bring my mother into it don't you Doris!" explains Axel Liimatta to a whining Natalie Scribner.

Adria Tippins (the fairy godmother) gives Cinderella, played by Amy Gardner a wish.

"Who wouldn't want me as a boyfriend - I'm handsome, intelligent, etc. ..." says Steve.

"Another day, another wrinkle" thinks Jessica McCall well-casted as an old fart.

National Honor Society

What is the National Honor Society? For those who are wondering, it's a nationally organized group of honor students who will later make great contributions to society. At least that's the theory. Members must maintain a 3.0 grade point average, be active members in the community or sports and receive complimentary recommendations from several teachers. Contrary to popular belief, this does not mean that all involved are teacher's pets or chronic brown nosers. It does mean that these students work hard to do as many things as they can, as well as they can do them.

Key Club

Key Club, Key Club! You hear about it all the time, but what is it all about. Key Club is a community service organization that focuses on helping the community however it can. This year the club sang Christmas carols at the Irving school, provided tutoring to students at both Boys and Girls clubs in Pontiac. These are just a few of the many activities that volunteer organizations coordinate. Along with the many community service projects, the club also organizes social events, such as dances, parties ... and the list goes on and on!! Most importantly the Key Club teaches students that their are many people in the world around them that need help and that they as students, can do something to help others less fortunate than themselves.

Michigan Youth In Government

Did you ever think about a bunch of high school students kicking out the real state government and taking over. Well, not quite! However, the students do simulate state government and take the roles of senators, representatives, governor, speaker of the house, and even the media. The students are allowed to use the actual senate and house chambers in the Capitol building. While there the students debate and vote on bills that they wrote themselves. The issues raised range from taxes to capital punishment.

Not all the time spent at MYG is serious stuff. At night the Raddison Hotel, where the students stay, really gets rockin! The first night there is a dance so that people can get acquainted. Besides the obvious things learned about state government, this experience enhances a student's social skills.

Antwion Walker, Nicole Harris and Michael Chapa are just a few of the Youth in Government Participants.

Steve Cunningham practices his public speaking so that he can get his point across at MYG.

M. Kirkland is thinking about strategy to get his bill passed in Lansing.

Andrew Jimenez, who took one big leap in his high school career by joining MYG, is planning to MAP his strategy for his bill in his second year in the program.

POM-PON SQUAD

Mid October started a new Pontiac Central Pom-Pon Squad. With the help of 9th grade secretary Michelle Williams and 9th grade principal Mr. Terry, the Pom Pon Squad has been off to a successful start. On Dec. 19, they performed an excellent routine at a home game against Bay City Central with the help of their coach Eddie "Brother Boyfriend" Turner. The Pom-Pon Squad also had another chance to strut their stuff on December 21. At the 1991 Pom-Pon Championship held at the Palace of Auburn Hills, the chiefs tried their hardest to perform their dance routine. Keep the Spirit alive ladies!

On their first appearance at Pontiac Central

At the start, they were all nervous but in the end, they were happy it was over.

In the middle of their performance, they danced to the beat of Get Busy. That's exactly what they were doing - Getting Busy!

The squad struts their stuff by passing their pom-poms.

Trust me, you say, I know what I'm talking about. The message is don't drink and drive, and please listen to me, I love you, I know what I'm talking about here, the message is don't drink and drive, the message is don't drink and drive.... Who said that? Hello, am I talking to myself?

Your mind begins to wander, you doze off, you wake with a start, there's a car pulling into the driveway, headlights sweep the dark room where you wait. You've been holding your breath, you relax, you feel like a balloon going down. At the same time you feel the anger begin to build in your chest, real anger, you scared me, you kept me up.

Here comes the kid. She's been drinking. He's been drinking. You can smell it.

You wish there was a magic formula, never mind how foolish it sounds, or a magic wand, anything to make your job easier, make this kid understand the truth you're trying to tell, the message you have to deliver: don't drink and drive.

You're talking to yourself now: don't drink and drive. You're talking to yourself, but you're talking to your kid, too. Don't drink and drive. Here comes the kid. Don't drink and drive, and please listen to me, I know what I'm talking about, I love you.

QUIVER STAFF

In the 1991-1992 school year there was a class of students who helped put together this very yearbook you are reading. This class was called the Quiver Yearbook Staff. Together the class took pictures, gave interviews and recorded for history everything exciting that happened at PCH. The class needed school spirit to overcome great obstacles from the fate of last years yearbook. The class included: Chris Bouie, Michael Chapa, Tywanda Clark, Amelia Contreras, Karloa Daniel, Roland Elam, Enrique Flores, Gena Grandberry, Robbyn Hopkins, Lavarice Lewis, Phillip Lewis, Axel Limmatta, Tandem Marshall, Fruquwa Miller, Shanet Moore, Christina Morgan, Tammy Pardington, Tim Parker, John Robertson, Detra Sartin, William Scruggs, Pam Shelton, Rashonda Williamson, Holly Wilson and Advisor: J. ## Let's Hear It!

Pontiac Central's cheerleaders are an essential part of their athletic teams. They give an extra boost of morale to the teams as well as the fans. Captain Tanisha Stevens leads the group of very energetic and spirited young ladies. They displayed spirit through good and bad times. Sometimes they brought the spirit of the game up so high it brought the Mighty Chiefs to a victory. These cheerleaders are definitely a group of well rounded and devoted individuals.

Chiefs entered the State Playoffs!

Our Varsity Football team had to face some very hard opponents this year. By winning the Saginaw Valley League last year they were named the team to beat, and the "team to beat they were." Every game day you knew that the PCH Chiefs came to play. The spirit and excitement was so strong that you could feel it as you stepped into the stadium. Winning 7 out of 9 and losing the Saginaw Valley Championship Title by one game. This still enabled the Chiefs to enter the state playoffs. Even though the Chiefs lost to Catholic Central they once again proved that they were truly number one.

J.V. Team - Valley Champs!

The 1991 Junior Varsity Football Chiefs were nothing but victorious against their overpowering opponents. With the help of all the players and coaches the J.V. Chiefs came out with an 8 - 1 - 0 season. This makes two undefeated seasons in the Saginaw Valley League. Losing only their game to our cross town rivals, Pontiac

Northern Huskies. Even though their season did not go unbeaten overall, the Chiefs are victorious on the field and in the classroom. The team had to go to football practice, walking to Wisner Stadium, after school for 9 weeks and still were able to hold at least a 2.0 Grade Point Average. Way To Go Team!!

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The girls basketball team had a, shall we say, disappointing season. However, there were a few positive aspects. For instance, they made it through the entire season without any member sustaining a serious injury ... forget I just said that.

Seriously, the lady Chieftans put a lot of effort and determination into this basketball season. While their record wasn't impressive, keep in mind that they play in a very competitive league. The Saginaw Valley is in Class AA and houses such state powers as Saginaw High and Bay City Central.

So before you grade the team to harshly - ask yourself if you could do any better (guys included).

Junior Varsity Girls Basketball

The junior varsity girls basketball teams improved as the season went on. With the skills that the Lady Chiefs gained over time next years varsity should be a team to be beat. This past year the girls developed from being individuals to uniting and working together as a unit, as one. Even though the season was not a winning one the heart that was shown out on the court was enough to cheer for. Way to go Lady Chiefs!

Rookie Coach Hill Leads Team Onto Victory

The loss of four starters, a sixth man and five other seniors is a difficult obstacle for any team to overcome. The chiefs are off to a good start to moving this mountain in their hopes for a Valley Championship. Although they have suffered two set-backs to Pontiac Northern and Clarkston, the fighting chieftans have maintained an unblemished mark in the Saginaw Valley, and have high hopes of continuing perfection.

Led by senior Thomas McGhee's 26 point average through the 1st four games, the Chiefs run a fast pace game; pushing the ball up the court for the easy basket on offense and pressing savagely on defense. First year varsity coach Ernest Hill has had a tough job creating a successful game plan with both a lack of experience and size, but thus far his chiefs have managed to come out on top.

No one's going to stop L. Adams, A. Benton and M. Williams.

Jump Ball! At this point, with the score 0 to 0, Bay City Central is as close as they will get.

22 again defies the Wolves for another basket.

As the free throw is thrown, both teams scramble for a possible rebound.

J.V. Show Maturity

If the boys junior varsity basketball team's primary purpose is to provide future leaders for the varsity team, Coach Tipton and his squad are doing a good job. Several promising youngsters have led the junior chiefs winning record this year. While the record is not overwhelming, it doesn't reveal the effort and poise put forth in the season.

Playing against the Clarkston Wolves, whose varsity was ranked 3rd in the state, the chiefs looked as if they were going to be blown out - down 15 points in the Clarkston's gym. However, the team pulled together, rallied and hung on to a two point lead. In Pontiac Northern's building they almost pulled off another upset with their hustle and determination but came up just short. If this kind of effort continues, Pontiac Central fans have a lot to look forward to.

The young Chiefs are poised and ready to cause another turnover.

This shot shows that its much harder to put the ball through the netting than it looks from the stands.

Dedication & Determination

The Girls Varsity Volleyball team was led this season by fourth year player and senior captain Cathryn Burrill, with the help of fellow seniors Rashon Johnson, Amy Jo Hubbard, Jessica McCall, and Leslie Markowitz. These five young ladies helped contribute to one of Pontiac Central's varsity volleyball's best seasons in quite sometime. It was a rough start for this team, emotions ran high and morale sometimes ran low. However, they remained sane by realizing they had to acknowledge and move on to achieve what they wanted. This team entered the court unknowing of the future, trying to forget about the past, while remaining in the present. The ladies achieved their goals this year through their dedication, hard work, perserverance, and determination. Also, these goals might not have been reached without Coach Lilley as a guiding inspiration. What a guy!

JV VOLLEYBALL

The J.V. Volleyball team was led by two very dedicated first year players and captains Ingrid Liimatta and Adria Tippins. The teams dedication as a whole, was a great motivator for their determination on the court. This team was ready and willing to take a stand, whether they were successful or they failed in the process. They stood strong and went to 'Devide and Conquer' and to do better the next time around. This young and energetic team hopefully will stick together to finish their years on the varsity level of play. This team has the potential to be great. They all as individuals, can carry on a goal of their own, that is, to succeed in this sport as well as in life. Their positive attitude along with Coach Hopkin at their side, attributed to their willingness to work and play well this season.

VARSITY BASEBALL

Its been a long time since Pontiac Central's varsity baseball team has won the Valley Conference.

No, I will not look at this season through rose-tinted glasses, but will go as far as to say that this years team has a great chance to ... break even. Not win nationals, not win states, not win valley, but ... break even. FACT # 1: This year's varsity has virtually the entire team returning, including its three captains: Axel "I though it was golf season" Liimatta Oronde "I should have made the basketball team" Baylor and On "My back hurts" Gracey. FACT # 2: Last year's two most productive hitters, Chris Wright and Joey Yberra, didn't transfer to Northern. FACT # 3: Last year the team gained respect, hanging tough with several top-notch teams, but it didn't show up in the win-loss column. This year experience is on our side.

So while breaking even may seem like one small step for some, it's one giant step for Mr. Nuss and the baseball team ... preferably over the first base line.

FORE!!!

This years Pontiac Central's varsity girls golf team was taken to new heights. The team had more participation which enabled them to go to regional and district meets. A fine display of golfing was demonstrated by fourth year captain Melissa Usrey. She was a great asset to the team along with Monica Mitchell who among others, helped contribute to a successful season. The ladies were in perfect form with their drives and putts. The course was torn to shreds on a few occasions when they were finished, but it was worth it. Some may think it is easy to chase and hit a little ball on some grass. However, it takes skill, skill, determination, and concentration which are traits that each one of these young ladies have and display on the course and in life.

BOYS SWIM TEAM

Many people in the school don't believe swimming is an important sport. Contrary to popular belief most people in the school have never even ventured near the pool unless forced to during gym class. The fact is the swim team is only for the ones willing to endure cold water, tough workouts, and even frozen hair. Certainly swimming is not for the faint of heart. Only the Strong Survive! Finishing last season with a break even season, this years chiefs look forward to improving this record and extending their streak of city championships to 4 years. Along with swimming there is also a diving aspect to the team. Since acquiring a great new diving coach in Don Mason. The diving team is on its way toward competitiveness in the Saginaw Valley Conference. Anchoring this years team are four year swimmers Mark Kirkland, David Graves, Michael Chapa and William Gallardo. Each are captains of the team. Coach Lorenz has managed to put together a solid team despite the misconception surrounding the swim team.

Elliot Pugh finishes strong, to the finish.

Mark Kirkland exhibits the strength and finesse necessary to swim the butterfly stroke.

Girls Swimming City Champs Again

The lady chiefs swimming team began the season with few veterans and many rookies. As time passed, the team grew not only in size but spirit also. Drastic improvements were made by the ladies as they were able to endure cold water, illness, and pain. As the season progressed, times dropped and new varsity records were set. Nov. 5 was the biggest night of the season. It was the night against Pontiac Northern which would decide the city champs. Led by captains Connie Roach and Tandem "Tucker" Marshall, the lady chiefs won 10 of the 11 events and Tandem Marshall took 1st place in diving after fracturing her foot only 2 weeks before. The spirit of the lady chiefs was at its height as the band played the fight song and the stands were filled by supporting students cheering on the lady chiefs.

Boys Golf!

38, 39, #@@! That's the way the scores at the end of each round were usually read off. Through showing sports of brilliance sporadically throughout the season, the boys golf team finished with a 3-7 record in the Saginaw Valley. Despite solid seasons from senior co-captains Axel Liimatta and Tom McGhee, the team had a lack of depth which destroyed any possibility of a conference championship.

However, all hope is not abandoned when Axel and Tom graduate. Juniors Ed Smith and Brad Kirland along with freshman Tommy Wayne showed signs of improvement and will hopefully lead the team on to victory next year.

Top: A. Vandecar, T. McGhee, Bob Kent, A. Liimatta, E. Smith. Bottom: B. Kirkland, M. Cowley, S. Horsey.

Coach Kent had to rest once in a while with the work that there is to do this year.

Brad Kirkland turned in a stellar 49 against Pontiac Northern.

Wrestlers Improving

The Chiefs wrestling team was looking forward to the 1991-92 season with the possibility of six returning starters. The balloon burst quickly as three starters moved to Pontiac Northern and one starter was ineligible. So the Chiefs started with only two experienced wrestlers out of 13 slots. The Chiefs line-up changed as often as the wrestlers challenged each other for the Varsity and Junior Varsity slots. At the beginning of the season we were lucky to win a dual meet but as the season progressed the wrestlers gained experience and improved. The team had a great attitude and had some excellent work turned in by some of the new wrestlers.

Dan Taylor tries to overpower his opponent for a pin.

Tom Voir attempts to throw his opponent off balance to get him down on the mat.

S. Anderson maneuvers his opponent to gain points and hopefully a pin on the mat.

K. Sanders resists his opponents attempts to overpower him, to make him lose his balance.

James "Kool-aid" Peterson leads the Chiefs.

The nervous stomachs quiver as the boys wait for the race to begin.

Steve Cunningham says, "It's a piece of cake!"

D. Graves, D. Gracey and W. Gallardo show off the team's city trophy.

Harriers First In Valley!

After rebuilding the boy's cross-country team from the championship teams of the late 1980's, Coach David Strachan and the team were prepared to make another run at the Saginaw Valley Championship. Putting the pieces together in the early season allowed the Chiefs to run faster and win more meets. Overall the team finished with a 10-3 record. Team unity helped the team become closer and help each other become closer and become better runners. The chiefs achieved the first piece of their goal by regaining the city championship back from Pontiac Northern. The following week was the real test of this team's mental and physical abilities. On October 17, 1991, this group of talented chiefs ran to the teams 4th Saginaw Valley Title in 5 years. For this team it was a great accomplishment to reach such a lofty goal in such a short period of time. Coach Strachan said, "All nineteen people were a part of this team and all nineteen of these people are champions!"

Girls Cross-Country

The girls cross-country team had quite a successful season. Great senior leadership helped the lady chiefs place 2nd in the Saginaw Valley league meet. The lady chiefs continued their dominance over cross-team rival Pontiac Northern by winning their 5th straight City Championship. Competitive and aggressive are two words that describe the 1991 girls cross-country team. In training throughout the season the lady chiefs ran over 2000 miles. This intense training enabled the team to attain an overall record of 7-1 in the Saginaw Valley. Many new runners joined the team this year and should enable the team to improve upon a season that was already best in some years. The goal for next year is to take the team to the next step towards capturing a Saginaw Valley Championship.

Congratulations to the girls cross-country team on a great season.

Boys Track Valley Champs!

What is it to run in circles in the sunshine and rain? What is it to be a member of the Pontiac Central High School Boys Track Team? It is hard work and it is worth it! The 1991 track team were Saginaw Valley Champions. They had determination and dedication that was displayed at practice and during meets. Coached by David Edwards, the boys showed great dominance throughout the season. Each member worked very hard and showed great spirit. The hope is that the 1992 Chiefs will continue to be the Saginaw Valley Champions. GO CHIEFS!!

Back - Dominique Wilson, Sonya James, Kiesha Malone, Basceal Robertson, Chanita Dempsey. Front - Speaks, Nina Rouser, Lucina Pringle, Jasmine Grant, Sincere Winning, Nafatari Sharpton, Tracy Bowens.

Girls Track Team

Speed, speed, and more speed, that's the basis of the Pontiac Central's Girls Track Team. While Coach Irv Speaks doesn't get a lot of experienced runners out of the junior highs, what he does get is much more important - speed, speed, and more speed.

No one even knows how many more speedsters there are in this school who may have untapped potential. In fact, this is often a problem for Coach Speaks. Last year, a lack of runners cost the lady Chiefs a Valley Championship. Many girls have their minds on other things other than running. If Speaks can ever convince the girls that running track is better than boys, the state better watch out!

Black blasts of the blocks in hopes of a victory.

Basceal Robertson turns the corner in the last leg of a relay event.

The Final Piece!

Long after all the students have left the hallowed halls of PCHS for the summer or forever, their actions shall live on in this yearbook. In the beginning this book looked like an impossible job, however everyone on the Quiver staff contributed and without the countless hours of extra work from Ms. Simpson this yearbook would not have seen the light of day. Next year someone else will have the job of writing articles, selecting pictures and proof-reading, but for one year this job has been exciting and difficult at the same time. Most of all I give my warmest thanks to the entire Quiver staff and most certainly Ms. Simpson.
