Dedication

The Water-Log staff would like to dedicate this annual to the adults of Waterford Township. We can think of no more fitting dedication than to the loyal supporters of Waterford Township High School. These adults have shown their interest in our school in a number of ways. Shown above are a group of Waterford Township's people attending a school function. This shows that they have an interest in our school. Also they support our athletic teams, plays, and our Parent-Teacher-Student organization. Recently the taxpayers of our township proved their support of W. T. H. S. by passing a bond issue so that the students of Waterford High will have one of the finest schools in Michigan. In appreciation we dedicate this book to the adults of Waterford Township.

Our Present Quarters

Our present building is shown here with some of the busses that brought students from all parts of the township. Built in 1947 as a temporary housing for Waterford Township High School, it has ten classrooms, two locker rooms, and a library.

Towards The Future

The hopes of Waterford students for a new building approach reality as Jayno W. Adams, Board of Education president, breaks the ground for the new high school.

This is the architects' conception of the future Waterford Township High School. The new building will contain many of the facilities that the temporary building lacked, such as laboratories, an adequate library, cafeteria, auditorium, and a gymnasium. It is expected that the new building will be ready by January, 1951.

Our Captains

From left to right the Board of Education members are Jayno Adams, president; James Donaldson, Marshall Smith, Helen Vann, treasurer; Elmer Fangboner, secretary; and William Shunck, superintendent of schools. It is the responsibility of this group to supervise all Waterford Township Schools including the high school.

Office administration of the high school are Lela Jeffery, assistant principal; Kay Leslie, office secretary; Donald Weaver, principal; and Bertha Bryce, principal's secretary. The office force, always with a ready smile, are the ones who keep Waterford High School running smoothly.

Did you ever wonder why the halls of W. T. H. S. were so clean? All the credit goes to Glenn Sutton and Fred Mayers, Waterford's behind the scenes custodians.

The major activity of the faculty outside of teaching Waterford students has been planning the curriculum for the new high school. Much time and study has been put in by the teachers so that Waterford High School will have a full and well balanced program.

SENIORS

First Class Passengers

Bud Millmine, president; Bill Tomlinson, vice-president; Jeannine Moran, secretary; and Dorothy Austin, treasurer were chosen by the class of '50 to lead them through their senior year. The officers were assisted by Mr. Doeksen, the class sponsor.

The first problem of the class was to raise money for the senior trip. Several dances were sponsored by the class in the fall. Among them were a dance after the Clarkston football game and the Hallowe'en dance which featured a colored band from Detroit.

At Thanksgiving time the class came up with a novel idea and sponsored a combination turkey raffle and dance for the residents of Waterford Township. Proceeds from this and the County Fair went into the increasing trip fund. The County Fair, which netted $350, had a cake walk, country store, Charlie Chaplin movies, and a fish pond.

In April came the highlight of the social events, the Senior Prom. By this time all their money making activities had brought in more than enough for the senior trip fund.

The senior encampment was the last week of May at St. Mary's Lake Camp near Battle Creek. The theme of the trip was social problems. While at the camp the class had people in to speak to them and present some phases of the subject. Then each senior had to prepare a paper on some aspect of the question.

After the trip came Skip Day, the Junior-Senior banquet, Baccalaureate and finally Commencement, which brought down the curtain on the activities of the senior class of 1950.

Seniors Sailing Along

"Lovely to look at, delightful to know," might well be what these couples were thinking while dancing to the dreamy music of Jim Service's band at the Senior Prom. Dancing from left to right are Jean Lawson, Bud Millmine; Dorothy Austin, Maurice Runyan; Chuck Weiler, Sue Brace; Della Radenbaugh, Bill Tomlinson; Betty Vaughn, Bob Studt; Jeannine Moran, Leo Larkin; and Yvonne Stodgel and Jack Nelson.

Indianwood Country Club provided the setting for this memorable event. The curtain went up at 9 o'clock, to display the fascinating array of decorations and gay, excited guests. Then at 1 o'clock after a full evening of dancing and fun, the curtain gracefully descended to end a most perfect evening that will live long in every senior's memory.

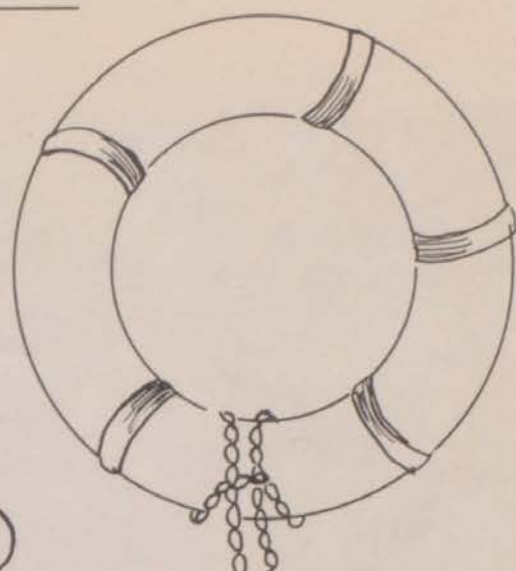

"Step right up and get your tickets," was a familiar phrase heard as you approached the Senior County Fair. This event was held on March 18, at W.T.H.S. and netted the seniors $325.

The highlight of the affair was the coronation of the king and queen. Voting took place in the hall for one week preceding the fair. Watching the jars fill up and the chart being marked proved to be very exciting. However, the final count proved the victors to be, sophomore Virginia Hartman as queen and senior Bob Studt as king. Presenting the awards in the above picture is last year's queen, Joan Kray.

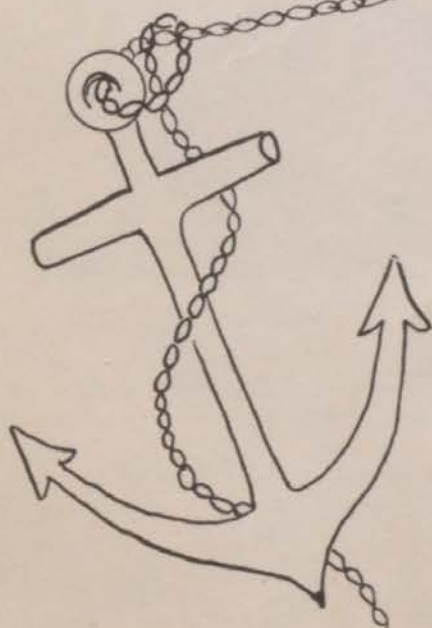

Other activities at the fair included fortune telling, cake walk, fish pond, picture booth, fudge sale, house of horrors, and dart games.

Seamen First Class

Leading the juniors of 1950 were president, Dean Parmenter; vice-president, Sam Savas; secretary, Jean Joss; and treasurer, Dick Radtke.

The "Hayseed Hop" was the first activity of the year and was a farmer style dance held in the school auditorium, December 2. Mr. Gidley's band provided square dance and popular music for the students to hop among the corn stalks that were in the room for decorations.

Snow and cold weather didn't stop the juniors from collecting old newspapers and magazines on January 7 and this profited them $50.46.

The big event of the year was the annual production of "Showboat" in their own fashion. This was presented January 13 and 14. Attendance records were broken for this show which yielded $215.90 profit.

"Sweetheart Swing", the Valentine dance, in the high school February 10, was another project of the year. There were hearts, balloons, and streamers decorating the auditorium. Don Kratt and his band beat out the popular music to swing to.

The Junior-Senior Banquet was the big treat of the year. This informal affair took place on June 10.

For all the work and effort put forth in the junior class, the amount recorded on March 5 was $1823.38, which will go toward the senior trip.

After much consideration the sophomore class chose as their leaders Bud Thomason, president; Jack Hruska, vice-president; Alice Carroll, secretary; Marietta Mack, treasurer. Mr. Frank Garland is class advisor.

To begin the year they sponsored the annual freshman-sophomore mixer, which is given to welcome the freshmen into their high school years here at W.T.H.S.

The main event for the sophomores in the second semester was the style show in which current styles in clothes were modeled by members of the class.

While these events were outstanding, the main project of the year was the sale of candy in room 102 every morning and noon.

Their combination of good leadership, co-operation, and class spirit was probably the basis for the very successful year they had.

Taken at the Sophomore Style Show March 31, we find Margaret Alyswoth wearing a casual skirt and blouse with loafers, a fine outfit for school. Next is Consie Bahm showing a casual date dress with semidress low-heeled shoes. Carrol Topham, in the background, wears a more dressy date dress with low heeled dress shoes. Last, but not least, is Fred Goyette with a suit, white shirt, and tie, the usual date clothes for boys. This was the final activity of the sophomores of '50 and a great success.

Classes

Learning their English from the ground up is the theme in this freshman English class of Miss Duffin. Just to make things interesting the class put on plays, wrote poems, and held discussions.

A daub of paint here and a splash of color there are found in the art classes of Mrs. Pety. The class has many projects such as making posters, scenery for the operettas, and miniature houses.

Student Council

Camera shy were Charles Weiler, president, and Dean Parmenter, vice-president. Joan Trout was secretary and Jean Campbell, treasurer. These officers were elected by the student body.

Student Council members have had a full year making plans concerning this high school and the future one. The main project undertaken by the Council this year was the drawing up of a constitution. This included the aims, previous and future, activities, and laws governing the high school now and the one to come.

Planning a "Student Day", in which the students replace the faculty, was another task which took much time and consideration.

The Student Council, with the aid of the Freshman Assembly Club, led by Miss Duffin, had charge of all assemblies presented this year.

The basis on which students should receive letters was discussed by representatives from the faculty, Student Council, football team, and the cheerleaders.

Also sponsored by the Student Council was the taking of student pictures.

Debate

A record of eight wins and one loss was made by Waterford's varsity debate team at the completion of this third year of interscholastic competition.

The team consisted of Joyce Mayo and Ruby Fralin, affirmative; and Joan Paine and Sherwood Ebey, negative. They debated the proposition, "Resolved: That the President of the United States should be elected by direct vote", which was supplied by the Michigan High School Forensic Association.

Through the season the team posted double wins over Flint Bendle, Utica, Romeo, and Bay City Handle. Thus the team had an unbeaten record and was invited to the district meet at Saline. Joyce and Sherwood furnished the season at the district meet when they were defeated by Inkster.

In the spring the debaters were guests of the University of Michigan as a reward for their work in debate.

Waterford High was presented with a wall plaque for excellence in high school debating by the Detroit Free Press, co-sponsor of the convention mentioned. This is the third year for W.T.H.S. to receive a plaque. Individual members received a certificate of merit.

- Row 1. left to right: Miss Day, advisor; Normajean Terry, Sherwood Ebey, headline editor; Joan Kray, business manager; Barbara Lesar, third page editor; Lois Ealy, first page editor, Jeannine Moran, associate editor; Evelyn Teasley, editor in chief; Marshall Rose, sports editor; Norma Vogel, copy reader; Beverly Schlussel, copyreader; Audrey Stenger, art editor; Jean Allen, third page editor.
- Row 2. B. Wooderson, B. Bouck, N. Geror, E. Persons, S. Moore, C. Grace, M. Lumby, P. Garner, C. Topham, M. Howden, O. Harris, M. Morin, A. Stroud, P. Ryan, W. Brown.
- Row 3. C. Taylor, J. Morse, A. Reed, F. Reaves, J. Paine, D. Zimmerman, J. Hruska, J. King, J. Loucks, O. Sanders, Y. Hepfner, N. Denker, S. Snell, and T. McKinstry.

"News in Brief", "Stuff and Nonsense", and "Senior Sketches" were only a few of the features presented in this year's Wa-To-Hi-Se.

Under the direction of Miss Day, the class issued twenty editions of the paper besides doing book-work in the fundamentals of journalism.

At the beginning of the second semester, the school board subsidized one-third of the cost of printing the Wa-To-Hi-Se. This reduced the combined price of the paper and the yearbook.

A visit to General Printing and other local presses helped the class to understand better the process of putting out a paper.

"Who's got the dummy?" "Where are those pictures?" "Got that copy written?" are some of the cries heard from the yearbook staff this year.

Putting the pictures in the right sections, writing copy, identifying students, and doing art work were some of the many jobs that had to be done to meet the March deadline. The Water Log staff has tried to make this third edition the best, and we hope you enjoy it as much as we have enjoyed bringing it to you.

- Row 3. F. Reaves, B. Miller, P. Craig, S. Hutchins, A. Reynolds, C. Thick, J. Loucks, T. Lewis, V. Winslow, S. Garnett, B. Turnbull, M. Mullen, Mr. Griffin.

"Sopranos sing louder," "Metzos not so heavy," "Let's hear those altos." These commands can be heard daily from Leonard Griffin, director of the Girls' Glee Club. This is one of the fine arts offered by our high school.

Among other things, the chorus presented a Christmas assembly which consisted of two religious cantatas, and various groups have sung at P.T.A.'s, the Y.W.C.A. and other schools.

Four girls were chosen from the chorus to sing barbershop harmony and were called the "Beauty Shoppe Quartette." Those girls were: Francine Brown, lead; Thelma Lewis, tenor; Joan Kray, baritone; and Norma Vogel, bass.

Have you ever had great dreams of seeing your name in lights? Well, these Dramatics Club members are getting a good start in practising for stage work (behind the scenes as well as in front). Besides actual roles in plays, members learn staging, make-up, properties, and the general principles of dramatics.

Improved staging and better sets were the two aims that played the most important part in this year's work.

Miss Looman gives her drama students a variation in types of acting to find what type each one is best suited for.

This year the outstanding activities were the play, "Beauty and the Beef," (a teen-age comedy), the initiation exercises, and the Children's Theater.

They also attended the Annual Dramatics Festival held in Mt. Pleasant.

Thespians

The Thespian Club, an honorary dramatic society, was organized here this year with Joyce Mayo as president.

To become a Thespian, a member must have gained a required number of points by acting, staging, and doing publicity for plays. Each member has directed one-act plays that are produced for reduced royalties through the Thespian Club. Some of the plays presented to Parent-Teacher Association, assemblies, and club meeting were "Trail By Jury," "The Evil Gesture," and "The Man in the Bowler Hat."

"Arsenic and Old Lace" was the big dramatic event of the year for the Thespian Club. Presented March 3 and 4, the play was produced through the combined efforts of the Dramatics Club and the Thespians.

Productions

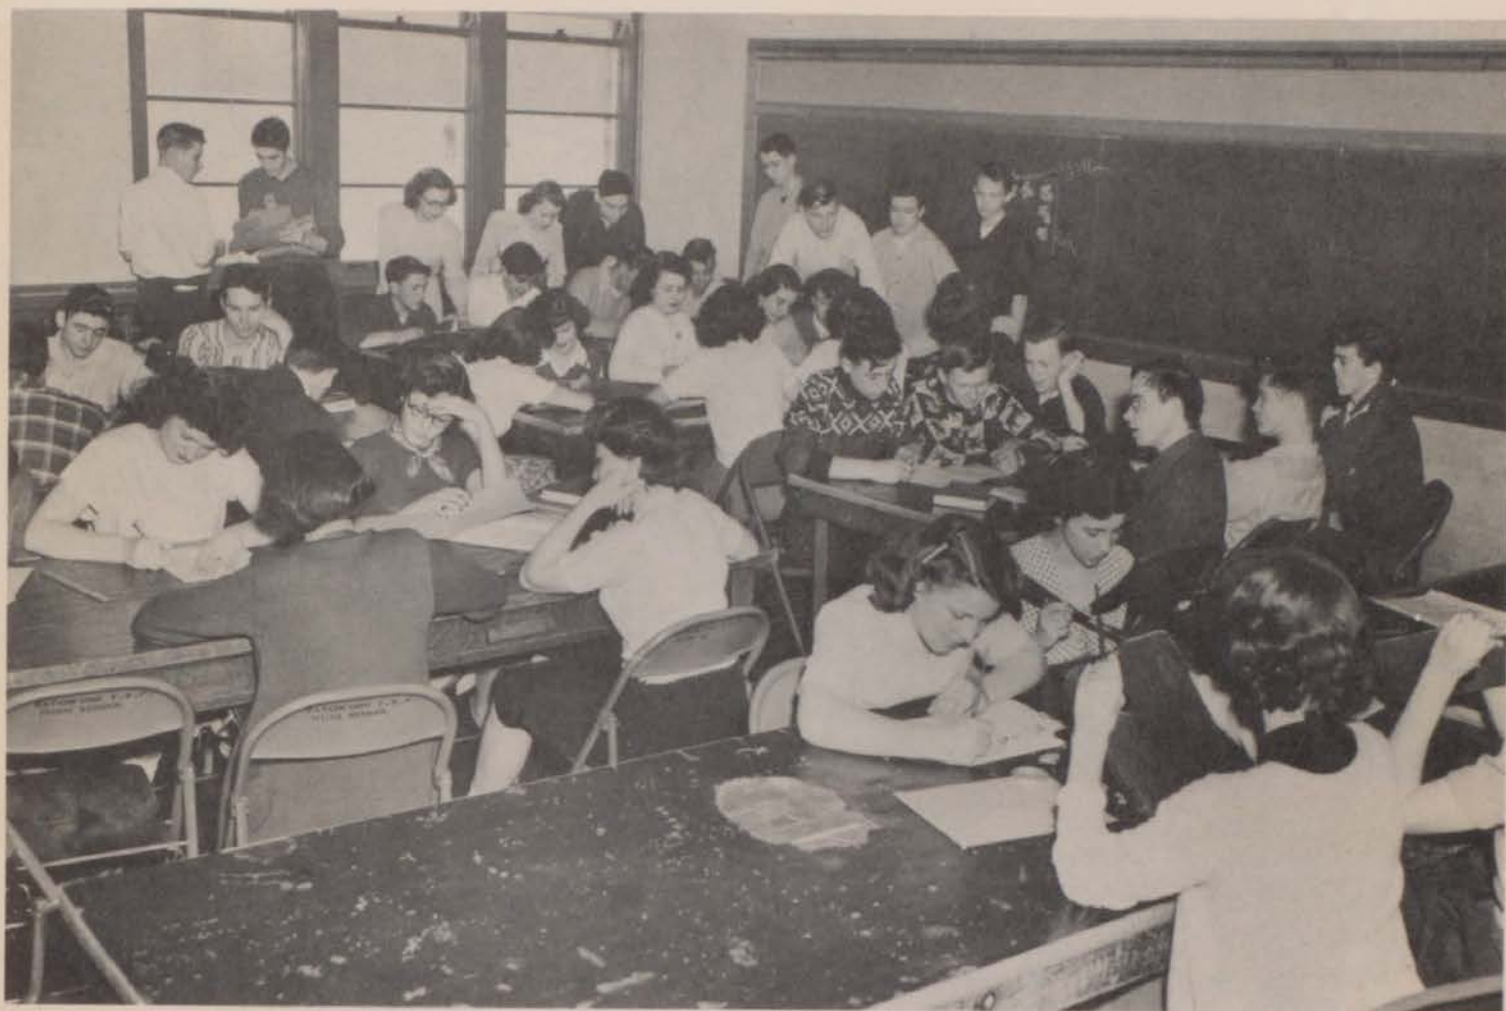

Two stuffy old ladies, some thieves, and a lunatic who thinks he's Teddy Roosevelt make up the main characters of this three act comedy presented by the Thespians of W. T. H. S., March 3 and 4. Actors are left to right: Beverly Coopes, John Novess, Stanley Larkin, Bob Webb, Don Dryden, and Roy Lindahl.

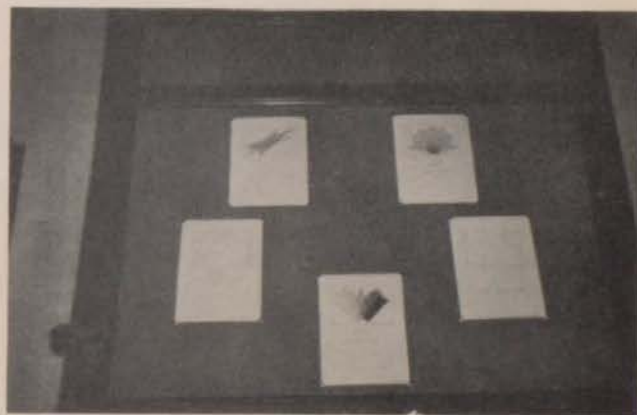

"Margie Goes Modern" and "The Authorities" were two operettas presented by the members of the Girls' Glee Club under the direction of Mr. Griffin April 5 and 6. The members of the cast shown during rehearsal are sitting left to right: D. Radenbaugh, R. Lowry, B. Dill, K. Shields, W. Souslin, B. Morey. Standing: D. Austin, N. Vogel, J. McCormack, A. Stenger, J. Kray, Mr. Griffin.

Art Club

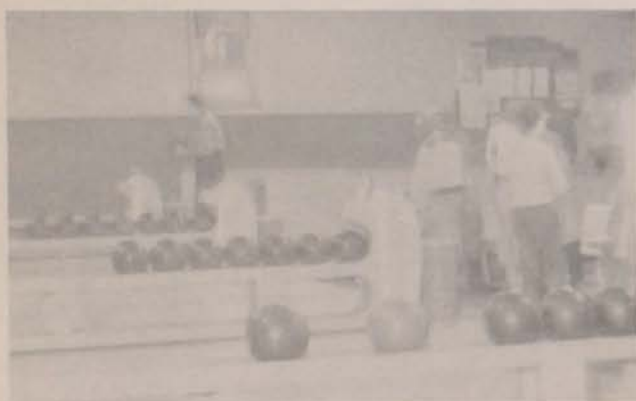

An art exhibit and tea, several fudge sales, and the Christmas dance, "Noel Nocturne," were sponsored by the Art Club. Everyone in the classes belonged to the club and representatives from each class planned activities under the direction of Mrs. Pety. Officers of the club were: President, Louis Rizzola; treasurer, Bill Tomlinson; and secretary, Barbara Lesar.

The Monday Bowling League officers are Bill Carter, president; Sue Moore, secretary; and Betty Vaughn, treasurer.

One of the league activities was the Christmas Tournament of December 28 when the Monday league bowled the Wednesday league. The winners of trophies were: George Conibear and Phyllis Berry in mixed doubles; Jean Christosen and Barbara Turnbull in girls' doubles; George Conibear and Stanley Roosa in boys' doubles; Jean Christosen in girls' singles; and Marvin Jones in boys' singles.

The National J.A.B.C. Tournament was held March 25.

These six students represent the cream of the crop of the students of Waterford Township High School. They are the ones who have had all A's on their report cards. Scholastic achievement is an important part of a school. Therefore we wish to recognize these students as well as those pictured on the previous page who have excelled in scholarship. We recognize them just as we recognize outstanding students in athletics or dramatics.

Varsity Football

Under Coach Ortiz's guidance, co-captains Leo Larkin and Bud Millmine led the way to the Skippers' first successful football season. Despite large scores in some games, touchdowns did not come easily. The Skippers' powerful running attack and excellent blocking accounted for the touchdowns gained.

Coach Ortiz is proud of his team's 6-2 record, but is prouder yet of their sportsmanship. No matter how tough or rough a game would be, the boys would play clean football. To their way of thinking, a good, hard, clean block was worth two unsportsmanlike ones. In most of our winning games, the losing coach would come over to congratulate Waterford for its clean play.

Football has its humorous side at Waterford also. Jack Nelson, guard, has a unique talent for playing in his opponent's backfield. Sam Savas, back, going to a game without his spikes caused a few comments. On occasions, Waterford's backfield men played line and the line took over the backfield.

After football practice in the "Burr Bowl," most of the boys would pair off and pick sand burrs out of each other's hide. Despite all this, Waterford will be fighting again next season for a 8-0 record.

Baseball

Sports

Under the leadership of Coach Ortiz the Skippers wound up the baseball season with an 8 won and 2 lost record. The Skippers were a free-swinging outfit, driving across 78 runs while giving up 35. Max Stamp was the leading slugger with a .412 average. Harvey Craft banged out a .500 average but did not play all season.

On the mound Lynn Wyckoff pitched for a 5 won, 2 lost record and Jack Frizzle came in with a 3 won, no defeat record. The booming bats of the Skippers gave the pitchers a feeling of security in many a game. Leo Larkin, Skipper backstop, took charge of the games on the field and did an exceptional job.

Practice for the Skippers began in early spring and consisted of strenuous exercises, running, batting and fielding drills. Many boys dropped out of practice because of low marks or because they didn't like the exercises, but the majority of the boys stayed with the team throughout the season.

Although only twelve boys received letters, the team was a large one. Many boys lacked only three or four innings for a letter. The baseball letter-winners for 1949 are: H. Craft, L. Larkin, B. Studt, M. Stamp, D. Parmenter, K. Leece, O. Wibley, B. Tomlinson, J. Frizzle, L. Wyckoff, and G. Conibear.

Cheerleading

A yea team at crucial moments and an unbroken spirit distinguish the W.T.H.S. cheerleaders while on the field,

The making of new uniforms which were gold school sweaters and blue satin skirts was the highlight of the year.

New yells, motions and an always ready team has made these cheerleaders, the best.

About 40 boys turned out for the freshman football tryouts at the call went out at the beginning of the year.

Tough calisthenics and exercises soon trimmed the squad down and Coach Hackett started putting the boys through their paces.

They were in top condition when they took the field against Lincoln, but Lincoln proved too tough for the Cabinboys and they suffered their only loss of the year.

The season's record was the best in Waterford's freshman football history as they ended with a 3-1-1 record.

Captain Ron Warden was a stellar offensive player until he was switched to the center position at mid-season. Little Jim Parker and Dick Mawhinney were the outstanding defensive players of the year. "Ship" Wheeler and Dick Hubble were outstanding all around. Again this year the freshman offense was sparked by a left-handed passer, Jack Kratt.

Coach Hackett stated at the end of the season that he was pleased with the record and that he enjoyed working with the boys.

Track

Track made its first appearance at Waterford High in 1949 under the direction of Coach Ortiz. The track men participated in three track meets, but lost them all. The schools that defeated the Skippers were Clarkston, Saint Michaels, and Pontiac's J.V. The Clarkston meet was lost by one point.

Track training began in early spring and consisted largely of running to get into condition. When warmer weather appeared, pole-vaulting, high jump, shot-put, and broad-jump practice were started. Many boys turned out for track, but only five received letters. The letter winners are: B. Millmine, R. Botza, E. Konzer, A. Noell, and B. Brown.

Charles Opie will be the track coach for the Skippers in 1950, leaving Coach Ortiz more time for baseball. Entering into their second year of track under Coach Opie, the Waterford trackmen will be trying for their first win at a track meet.

Frosh Baseball

As soon as the weather broke last spring, the baseball diamond at Waterford broke out with a rash of diamond hopefuls.

By the time the first game was to be played, the Cabinboys took the field in excellent shape. The game was a one-sided affair with Bud Tomason giving the Dublin crew a good exhibition of pitching by striking out 15 men. The score was 15-3.

The next two games also proved fatal to the Cabinboys' opponents as they were beaten by the superb pitching of Bud Tomason and Jim McEvers.

Life Saving

After learning the life-saving techniques at afternoon meetings, led by Mr. Isaacson, these life-savers had to jump into the pool on Tuesday nights and try it out for themselves.

"Everybody get into the pool," was the first dreaded shout heard on the wintry nights at the poolside.

As soon as the students were accustomed to the chill of the water, the cry "All out," rang through the room; then came a mad scramble for towels and shirts to keep themselves warm, while they struggled through the land drill.

During these eventful evenings, Mrs. Isaacson was assisted by some of last year's life-savers.

Twenty were lucky enough to live through the first half of this struggle, and spend the last five weeks working for senior life-saving certificates.

Those who finally passed the entire course, book work and actual swimming, are: B. Anderson, P. Berry S. Brace, J. Campbell, N. Crothers, N. Geror, Y. Hepfner, and T. Lewis. Others include: D. Marriott, J. Paine, M. Schenck, J. Slygh, J. Tabor, N. Upham, S. Weiler, K. Willson, and B. Zoch. D. Austin, J. Kray, L. Larkin, M. Mattison, and B. Millimine are five students who previously passed life-saving, but took it again this year and passed.

Weight-Lifters

The freshman boys formed a club during the year for the purpose of body-building. Lifting weights was only one of the many activities the boys did. Chin-ups, sit-ups, push-ups, and various other exercises were used. Coach Hackett, originator of the club, introduced many new types of exercises, such as free-for-all wrestling, four-man blindfolded boxing, and tumbling skills.

Boys' Sports

In accordance with the ideas of both Coach Ortiz and Coach Hackett, the boys' physical education classes had many different types of physical training. Gym classes were held both in the locker room and on the field. Outdoor sports consisted of football, commando speedball, and other running sports. Indoors, the boys worked on the bars and peg board, lifted weights, and tumbled. The pictures show many of the sports at Waterford.

Girls Sports

"Teddy bear, teddy bear, go up stairs." Yes, it's jumping rope time for the girls' gym class. The winter weather and lack of space for indoor sports have led the classes to find things to do. First aid, tumbling, exercises, dancing, jumping rope and panel discussions, fill in the days on which it is impossible to go out. During the warmer weather, soccer, softball and field hockey keep the girls busy out-of-doors. Each gym class has its own schedule, set up by the class and Mrs. Isaacson, the girls' gym teacher. This way something different will be done each day.
